PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 17th November, 1947:—

L. A. BILL NO. 44 OF 1947.

A Bill to amend the Foreigners Act, 1946.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the Foreigners Act, 1946 (XXXI of 1946), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Foreigners (Amendment) Act, 1947.

2. Substitution of "India" for "British India" in Act XXXI of 1946.—In the Foreigners Act, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words "British India", wherever they occur, the word "India" shall be substituted.

3. Amendment of section 2, Act XXXI of 1946.—In clause (a) of section 2 of the said Act—

(a) for the words "Indian State" the words "acceding State" shall be substituted;

(b) for the words "Tribal areas" the words "Assam tribal areas" shall be substituted.

4. Amendment of section 3, Act XXXI of 1946.—(1) In sub-section (2) of section 3 of the said Act,—

(a) after clause (c) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(cc) shall, if he has been required by order under this section not to remain in India, meet from any resources at his disposal the cost of his removal from India and of his maintenance therein pending such removal;"

within two months from the date of such entry, direct the master of the vessel or the pilot of the aircraft on which such entry was effected or the owner or the agent of the owner of such vessel or aircraft, to provide, to the satisfaction of the said authority and otherwise than at the expense of Government, accommodation on a vessel or aircraft for the purpose of removing the said foreigner from India.

(5) The master of any vessel or the pilot of any aircraft which is about to carry passengers from a port or place in India to any destination outside India, or the owner or the agent of the owner of any such vessel or aircraft shall, if so directed by the Central Government and on tender of payment therefor at the current rates, provide on the vessel or aircraft accommodation to such port or place outside India, being a port or place at which the vessel or aircraft is due to call, as the Central Government may specify, for any foreigner ordered under section 3 not to remain in India and for his dependents, if any, travelling with him."

5. Amendment of section 7, Act XXXI of 1946.—To section 7 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(4) If in any area prescribed in this behalf the prescribed authority by notice published in such manner as may in the opinion of the authority be best adapted for informing the persons concerned so directs, it shall be the duty of every person occupying or having under his control any residential premises to submit to such person and in such manner such information in respect of foreigners accommodated in such premises as may be specified; and the provisions of sub-section (2) shall apply to every person accommodated in any such premises.

(2) A person to whom any direction has been given under sub-section (1) shall not, while such direction remains in force, use or permit to be used any other premises for any of the aforesaid purposes, except with the previous permission in writing of the prescribed authority and in accordance with any conditions which that authority may think fit to impose.

(3) Any person to whom any direction has been given under sub-section (1) and who is aggrieved thereby may, within thirty days from the date of such direction, appeal to the Central Government; and the decision of the Central Government in the matter shall be final."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Foreigners Act, 1946, has in certain respects been found inadequate for the effective control of foreigners in India. For example, the Act does not provide power for requiring the master of a vessel or the pilot of an aircraft to remove a foreigner who has made an illegal entry into India on any such vessel or aircraft or who has under section 3 of the Act been ordered not to remain in India. Another power the absence of which has been keenly felt is that of requiring a foreigner, who has been directed to leave India, to meet the expenses of his voyage, if he is in a position to do so; for want of this power, recalcitrant foreigners evade payment which falls on the general tax-payer of India especially in case of foreigners whom it is found necessary to deport with as little delay as possible. The Act does not also give power for imposing in times of emergency an obligation on a householder in any specified area (e.g., in prohibited and protected places) to report to the prescribed authority the presence of any foreigner in his household and to furnish other particulars in respect of such a foreigner. Similarly there is no power under the Act for closing down clubs and restaurants, etc., frequented by foreigners, and in the absence of such power the police have experienced special difficulty in closing down gambling and opium dens, etc., used by foreigners of criminal or disloyal association or otherwise undesirable type. These powers are necessary both from the security point of view and for the effective control of foreigners in general.

2. The object of this Bill is to amend the Foreigners Act, 1946, so as to take adequate powers in respect of the matters mentioned above.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The demand for dock labour is intermittent depending on the arrival and departure of vessels, the size and nature of their cargo as well as seasonal and cyclical fluctuations. In the ports, therefore, there is usually labour in excess of minimum requirements and the general tendency on the part of employers is to ensure larger reserves than necessary in order to provide ample margin against emergencies. The main problem connected with dock labour is to devise measures so as to reduce the hardship due to unemployment or under-employment to the utmost extent possible. The Royal Commission on Labour recommended as far back as 1931 that a policy of decasualisation should be adopted with a view "to regulate the numbers of dock labourers in accordance with requirements and to ensure that the distribution of employment depends not on the caprice of intermediaries, but on a system which as far as possible gives all efficient men an equal share." Government had accepted the recommendation and efforts were made to induce Port Trusts to formulate necessary schemes of decasualisation. The [illegible] attempt was not, however, a success and [illegible] registration was [illegible] was not proceeded with due to organised distribution of food supplies, facilitated the registration of labour at major ports, the problem, in the main, has remained unsolved. It is now proposed to undertake legislation giving power to the Central Government in respect of major ports and to the Provincial Governments in respect of other ports, to frame a scheme for the registration of dock workers with a view to securing greater regularity of employment and for regulating the employment of dock workers whether registered or not, in a port. In particular, the scheme may provide inter alia for the terms and conditions of employment of workers whether registered or not, including rates of remuneration, hours of work and conditions as to paid holidays. It may also provide for payment to registered workers of minimum pay for days on which work may not be available to them and for their training and welfare.

3. Provision is also made in the Bill for the constitution of an Advisory Committee consisting of not more than 15 members representing the Government, the dock workers and the employers of dock workers in equal proportion. In the framing and administration of the schemes the appropriate Government will take the advice of this Committee.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 17th November, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 48 OF 1947.

A Bill to amend the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947 (VII of 1947), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Foreign Exchange Regulation (Amendment) Act, 1947.

2. Amendment of section 8, Act VII of 1947.—To sub-section (1) of section 8 of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947, the following Explanation shall be added, and shall be deemed always to have been added, namely:—

"Explanation.—The bringing or sending into any port or place in British India of any such article as aforesaid intended to be taken out of British India without being removed from the ship or conveyance in which it is being carried shall nonetheless be deemed to be a bringing, or as the case may be sending, into British India of that article for the purposes of this section."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A doubt has arisen whether the power under section 8(1) of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1947, to prohibit the import of bullion into India extends to bullion brought into a port or place in India but intended to be taken elsewhere without being removed from the ship or conveyance in which it is carried. The object of the amendment is to make it clear that the provision in section 8(1) applies to such cases also.

Submersion of coal mines to be avoided by the Corporation.—The Corporation shall make every endeavour to avoid submersion of coal or mineral deposits and shall co-operate with the coal mining industry and the bodies set up by the participating Governments to ensure the maintenance of adequate supplies of sand for stowing purposes in coal mines and in other ways to minimise the inconvenience to the coal mining industry.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Damodar river rises in western Bihar and flows generally in a south-easternly direction into Bengal. It is a seasonal river having a large flow of water during the rains which, apart from being generally wasted, at times causes great damage to life and property. It is now proposed to harness the water of this river and some of its tributaries and utilise it in multiple development of the Damodar Valley and the adjoining area.

2. This Bill seeks to set up a Corporation, called the Damodar Valley Corporation on the lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority in the U.S.A. It will be an autonomous body within the framework of the enactment. Its objects, constitution and powers are laid down in the Bill. Briefly, its main function will be to control flood in the Damodar, generate electric power for distribution and provide water for irrigation and other purposes. In addition, the Corporation will endeavour to promote economic development of the Damodar Valley and the adjoining areas. It will consist of three members including the chairman. These three members and the secretary and treasurer will be appointed by the Central Government. The Corporation will have power to acquire land and construct or cause to be constructed such dams, barrages, reservoirs, power houses and power structures, electrical transmission lines, irrigation and navigation works as may be necessary. The capital required by the Corporation will be provided by the Central Government and the Governments of Bihar and West Bengal. The profits and losses will be distributable between these three Governments in certain agreed proportions.

3. The provisions of this Bill are designed to give effect to the broad outlines of the agreement reached between the three Governments concerned.

NEW DELHI;
the 10th November, 1947.

Notes on Clauses.

Clauses 4-7.—The chairman and the two members of the Corporation will be appointed by the Central Government after consultation with the Provincial Governments. The members will be whole-time servants of the Corporation and their remuneration and other conditions of service will be prescribed by the Central Government under their rule-making power.

The secretary and the treasurer will also be appointed by the Central Government and the conditions of their service will also be prescribed by the Central Government under their rule-making power.

Clause 11.—The jurisdiction of the Corporation will be the Damodar Valley and such other area as may be notified by the Central Government after consultation with the Provincial Governments as the area of operation.

Clause 12.—This clause deals with the functions of the Corporation. The three main functions will be flood control, irrigation and generation of power, and through these the Corporation will endeavour to promote the agricultural, industrial, economic and public health development of the area within its operation.

Clause 14.—The bulk supply rate of water for irrigation is to be fixed by the Corporation after consultation with the Provincial Governments concerned. Similarly, the Provincial Governments will fix the rate of water-supply to the cultivators after consultation with the Corporation. The object is that the rates fixed are reasonable and do not become a source of undue profit.

Clause 18.—The Corporation shall have the exclusive right to generate, transmit and sell electrical energy in the Damodar Valley at a pressure of 30,000 volts or more. In sub-clause (d) an exception has, however, been made whereby the Provincial Government (West Bengal) may generate electrical energy within the Damodar Valley up to an aggregate capacity of 10,000 kilowatts in the southernmost part of the area defined under the sub-clause. This area has been fixed in consultation with the West Bengal Government.

Clause 19.—Existing licenses in conflict with clause 18 are to be revoked. There is provision for the Corporation either buying the undertaking or giving adequate compensation.

Clause 21.—This clause names a few of the other activities of the Corporation incidental to the functions of the Corporation.

Clauses 22-24.—Define certain powers of the Corporation which are necessary for its efficient functioning.

Clauses 25 and 26.—Specific directions are being given to the Corporation to undertake by its own activities and in co-operation with the participating Governments to cause as little inconvenience and discomfort to the population affected by submergence and to avoid, as far as possible, submersion of [illegible] mineral deposits and to secure maintenance of adequate supplies of sand for [illegible] purposes in the coalmines.

Clause 27.—All expenditure incurred by the Central Government in connection with the establishment of the Corporation up to the date of its establishment, is to be treated as capital of the Corporation provided by the Central Government.

Clause 32.—Under this clause the way the allocation of capital expenditure chargeable to a project between irrigation, power and flood control is to be made, has been laid down. It follows the principle adopted by the T. V. A. and has been accepted by the three Governments concerned.

Clauses 33-35.—The capital for irrigation is to be shared between the two Provincial Governments and clause 33 lays down the manner in which this should be done. The capital for power will be shared equally between the three participating Governments. The capital for flood control will be shared by the Central Government and the Government of West Bengal—the former's contribution being limited to Rs. 7 crores. The intention is that the entire burden on this unproductive portion of the project should not fall on the Government of West Bengal alone.

Clause 38.—It is not expected that the project would yield adequate return in the first 15 years and it has therefore been provided that the interest charges and all other expenses within this period shall be added to the capital cost.

Clause 40.—The development of the Damodar Valley will add considerably to the value of land and property in the area and it is felt that in the event of a betterment levy being imposed by a Provincial Government a share thereof should go to the Corporation.

Clause 42.—This is important but self-explanatory.

Clauses 43-46.—Deal with audit, accounts and reports. Specific directions are being given on these points under these clauses.

Clause 47.—While giving autonomy to the Corporation within the bounds laid down under the Bill, the Central Government are retaining power to guide the Corporation by instructions on questions of policy.

Clause 48.—In keeping with this autonomy, provision is made for arbitration in any dispute between the Corporation and any of the participating Governments.

Clause 52.—This clause lays down how a member can be removed.

Clause 58.—The Central Government are being given power to make rules on specific items.

Clause 59.—This clause gives the Corporation power to make regulations for carrying out its functions.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

C. A. BILL No. 59 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926, and the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926) and the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Bar Councils and the Legal Practitioners (Amendment) Act, 194

2. Amendment of Section 10, Act XXXVIII of 1926.—To sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926) the following explanation shall be added, namely:

"Explanation (i).—The holding of any political opinion or the expression of it in any form or act provided it does not involve violence and incitement to or abatement of violence is not misconduct under this sub-section.

Explanation (ii).—Conviction under any Law or Ordinance, general, special, local or otherwise, or under any rules including conviction under section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), for any political offence where the person convicted is not found guilty of violence or incitement to or abatement of violence is no proof of misconduct."

3. Insertion of new section 13A in Act XVIII of 1879.—After section 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), the following new section shall be inserted, namely:

"13A. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 12 and 13, no pleader or mukhtar holding a certificate as aforesaid shall be liable to be proceeded against or punished under those sections for holding any political opinion or for expressing it in any form or act, provided it does not involve violence or incitement to or abatement of violence, nor for having been convicted under section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) or under any general, special or local law or ordinance or under any rules, if he has not been found guilty of violence, or incitement to or abatement of violence."

4. Provision for restoration of a legal practitioner to his former status.—Any advocate, pleader or mukhtar against whom any proceedings or disciplinary action have been taken under the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), or the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), before the commencement of this Act, may within one year from the commencement of this Act apply to have the proceedings dropped or the disciplinary action set aside; and if it is proved that such proceedings or disciplinary action could not have been taken if this Act were at that time in force, the proceedings shall be dropped and the disciplinary action set aside forthwith, and the person restored to his former status.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There have recently come before the Courts many cases in which legal practitioners who were convicted of offences under such emergency ordinances like the Defence of India Rules for their political activities were debarred, in spite of their admittedly high character and professional integrity and in spite of the fact that the offences did not involve violence. In a recent case in the Madras High Court the entire Bar of the country gave the opinion that acts which did not involve violence did not amount to moral turpitude; but the Court reprimanded the advocate. The opinion of the several High Courts are not uniform on this subject. The Calcutta High Court has held that such non-violent political activities did not amount to defect of character. Public opinion as also the considered opinion of the legal profession in the country is against striking lawyers off the Rolls for their non-violent political activities. In the course of a country's struggle for freedom and in view of the impending constitutional changes in the country, all citizens including lawyers should be free to serve without fear or favour. It is very often the case that persons who have been imprisoned for their political opinions or activities are persons of noble character and are the chosen leaders of the people, respected and honoured. Some of these are even called to fill high posts of honour and responsibility on political changes occurring in the country. The administration of law and justice stultifies itself by proceeding against such persons. This amendment has long been felt necessary. Even in the last assembly a Bill was introduced for the purpose. The proposed amendment seeks to bring the law into conformity with the progressive ideas of the people.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 61 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Insurance Act, 1938.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Insurance Act, 1938 (IV of 1938), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act shall be called the Insurance (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 4, Act IV of 1938.—In sub-section (1) of section 4, for the words beginning with the words "No Insurer" and ending with the words "shall pay" the words and figures "No Insurer, not being a Co-operative Life Insurance Society to which Part IV of this Act applies, shall pay" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Co-operative Insurance Societies were started mainly to help persons of small means, both in rural and urban areas. The Insurance Societies are insuring lives for Rs. 1,000 and upwards. It is not within the means of ordinary ryots and artisans, labourers and lower middle classes to make the requisite payment for policies of Rs. 1,000 and upwards. So the Co-operative Life Insurance Societies which were formed to cater to the needs of these people were exempted from the rule, restricting Insurance to Rs. 500 and above which was raised in 1946 to Rs. 1,000 and upwards for Insurance Societies. In the year 1946 when the amending Bill was before the Indian Legislative Assembly, this exemption was sought to be amplified; but by a mistake the actual amendment that was passed took away the exemption by an incorrect wording of section 5A(i) of the amending Act. The Insurance Amendment Bill introduced by the Government in 1947 recognised the mistake and wanted to rectify it by giving power to the Government to exempt the Co-operative Life Assurance Societies. The Select Committee which has reported on this Bill has made the following recommendations—

Clause 4.—"We consider that all Co-operative Life Insurance Societies to which Part IV of the Act applies should be exempt from the minimum limits laid down in sub-section (1) of section 4 and the position of such Societies should be as it was before the Insurance (Amendment) Act, 1946. Section 5(a)(i) of that Act appears to have been incorrectly worded, and we have revised clause 4 in order to rectify the error [illegible] and revised [illegible] as below:—

"4. Amendment of section 4, [illegible]—In sub-section (i) of section 4 [illegible] for the words beginning with the words "No Insurer" and ending with the words "shall pay" the words and figures "No Insurer, not being a Co-operative Life Insurance Society to which Part IV of this Act applies, shall pay" shall be substituted."

On account of the [illegible] made in 1946, the transactions in the Co-operative Insurance Societies have been seriously affected and the poorer section of the community have been deprived of the [illegible] of insurance which were supplied by the Co-operative Insurance Societies. In the interests of ryots, labourers and artisans and others [illegible] of limited means, it is necessary that [illegible]

Insurance should be returned to them as early as possible. The Government Bill as amended by the Select Committee will probably be taken up by the Assembly sometime next year, in view of pressure of business in the Assembly. On account of urgency, I have given notice of this Bill separately.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL NO. 62 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 124A, Act XLV of 1860.—That in place of section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"124A. Sedition.—Whoever by words, either spoken or written or by signs or by visible representation, or otherwise, with the intention of bringing into hatred or contempt, or exciting disaffection towards Her Majesty (or the Crown Representative), or the Government established by law in India (or British Burma), incites any person or persons to violence, or to cause public disorder, or to disturb public tranquillity, shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to three years, to which fine may be added, or with fine.

Explanation.—The expression 'disaffection' includes disloyalty and all feelings of enmity."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The law of sedition incorporated in section 124A as it stands has undergone a great change with the advance of political thought. The section is completely out of date and its language is unduly restrictive and susceptible of a very narrow construction. It has been often interpreted by the courts of law in India in a very limited sense and it has been frequently applied by the executive to suppress the free right of speech. The present Bill aims at bringing the law of sedition in this country in line with the law on the subject as it stands in other civilised countries, that is to say, a mere expression of ideas unless accompanied with incitement to violence, etc., should no longer fall within the mischief of the offence of sedition. The recent ruling of the Federal Court reported in A.I.R. 1942 F.C. 22 has clarified the position and affords a complete justification for the change suggested.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL NO. 63 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Provincial Insolvency (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 28, Act V of 1920.—After sub-section (4) of section 28 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(4A) Where the insolvent is the manager of a Joint Hindu family the property of the insolvent shall comprise and be deemed to have always comprised the capacity to exercise and to take proceedings for exercising all such powers, in, or over, or in respect of property as might have been exercised by the insolvent for his own benefit or for the benefit of the joint family at the commencement of the insolvency or before his discharge."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

A Bill has been sponsored by the Government of India, on 17th March, 1947, for an amendment of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), so as to bring it into line with the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (III of 1909), in respect of the vesting in the Official Receiver of a Hindu father's power to sell his son's share in the Joint Family estate for discharge of his own debts not illegal or immoral which has been held not to exist by a Full Bench of the High Court of Madras in a case reported in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83. The statement of objects and reasons appended to the Bill is as follows:—

"As a result of the decisions of the Privy Council in Satnarayan V. Behari Lal, I.L.R. 6, Lahore, 1, and Satnarayan V. Sri Kishendas, same V, Bank of Upper India, I.L.R. 11, Lahore 644, the right of a Hindu father to sell family property to discharge family debts lawfully incurred cannot be deemed to be property within the meaning of Sec. 2(c) or of Sec. 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909 (III of 1909), and therefore does not devolve upon the Official Assignee under Sec. 17 of the Act. The Judicial Committee held however, that the power of the father to sell his son's property to discharge his own lawful debts does devolve upon the Official Assignee by reason of Sec. 52(2)(a) of the Act.

"While the Provincial Insolvency Act contains in sections 2(d) and 28(2) provisions identical with those embodied in sections 2(e) and 17, of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, there is in the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1920 (V of 1920), no provision corresponding to section 52 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. In consequence a conflict of opinion has arisen among the High Courts as to whether, in the case of an adjudication under the Provincial Insolvency Act, the power of the father to sell his son's interest in the family estate to meet his own legitimate debts devolves upon the official receiver as it does in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

"In the course of a Full Bench decision reported in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, the Madras High Court suggested that central legislation should be promoted to bring the Provincial Insolvency Act into line with the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, in the relevant respect."

It is submitted that the Bill is defective in two very material particulars.

In the first place the Bill is not retrospective in operation, and unless the Bill is made retrospective the hardship caused to innumerable creditors and purchasers in insolvency by the law as declared by the F. Bch. decision in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, does not stand remedied. Even if I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, continued to be good Law without any Legislative interference creditors in future would not be misled. They would hereafter be regulating their own conduct according to that decision. It is the creditors who have been misled by the state of Law prior to I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83, that really require to be protected. Innumerable sales in innumerable Insolvencies under the Provincial Insolvency Act must have taken place during well nigh a period of two decades that elapsed since the earlier F. Bch. ruling, reported in I.L.R. 49, Madras 840, the case of a father and the ruling in 52, Madras 246, the case of a Manager not being the father down to the later F. Bch., the later F. Bch. ruling in I.L.R. 1943, Madras 83. The titles created by such sales which stand jeopardised by the later F. Bch. ruling, deserve to be saved. Moreover, the creditors themselves for the discharge of whose debts the sales in the Insolvency might have taken place during this period would be left without a remedy, for the recovery of debts. Hence it is that the present Bill is brought forward now so that the Amendment of the Provincial Insolvency Act may be made retrospective in operation. In this connection it may not be out of place to recall the following observations made by Mr. Justice Somayya, in delivering judgment in S.A. No. 1307 of 1945, on 31st July, 1946.

"The sales which took place between 1900 and 1943 were affected by that decision (1943, Madras, 83, F.B.) and in most cases purchasers would have no remedy, whatsoever particularly as there is no warranty of title in cases of sales held by the official receiver. It was high time that the legislature moved or was moved in the matter and necessary legislation made in order to protect the title that has been acquired between 1900 and 1943 and thereafter. It was regrettable that in spite of the defect being pointed by a F. B. of the High Court as early as 1942, the legislature should not have acted during all these four years to set the matter right."

Secondly, the F. Bch. decision reported in I.L.R. 1943, Madras, P. 83, is itself the case of a manager whose power to sell the interests of the other coparceners in the family estate for discharge of debts binding on the family [like the father's power to sell for discharge of his own debts not illegal or immoral to which the F. Bch. ruling has been extended by a Bench ruling reported in 1943, (2) M.L.J.], 87, has been held by the F. Bch., not to vest in the official receiver. The consideratio[n] of hardship to creditors and purchasers which a[re] adverted to above are as relevant to the case of th[e] Insolvency of a Manager not being the father [as] to the case of a father's Insolvency. This Bi[ll] proposes an amendment comprehensive enough [to] cover the one class of cases as well as other.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 58 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898);

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force on the date of its publication in the Gazette of India.

(3) It shall extend to the whole of the Dominion of India including Indian States.

2. Insertion of new Chapter XXIV in Schedule II to Act V of 1898.—After Chapter XXIII in Schedule II to the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), the following new Chapter shall be inserted namely:—

"CHAPTER XXIV

OF OFFENCES RELATING TO AGRICULTURAL ANIMALS.

1	2	3	4
512	Killed or causing to be killed cow, calf, bullock or bull.	Shall arrest without warrant.	Warrant.

5	6	7	8
Not bailable.	Not compoundable.	Imprisonment of either description for seven years or fine or both.	Magistrate of the first class."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this amendment is to protect the agricultural animals. India being an agricultural country, is running short of food materials. Cows, bulls, bullocks being the only motive-force of Indian agricultural implements, the animals should be spared from slaughtering. Hence legislation of this nature is not only the necessity but a just and economic demand of time.

As the amendment to Indian Penal Code, 1860, has been moved, this amendment is necessary so as to provide the procedure for the amendment.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 13th December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 69 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), in certain respects;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

2. Amendment of section 496, Act V of 1898.—In section 496 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898) (hereinafter referred to as the said Code)—(i) for the words "other than a person accused of a non-bailable offence" the words "is accused, complained or suspected of any bailable offence or" shall be substituted; and (ii) between the words "Court" and "and", the words "as being accused, complained or suspected of any such offence" shall be inserted.

3. Amendment of section 497, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (i) of section 497 of the said Code—(i) for the words "accused of any non-bailable offence" the words "is accused, complained or suspected of any non-bailable offence or" shall be substituted; and (ii) between the words "Court" and "he" the words "as being accused, complained or suspected of any such offence" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill seeks to set at rest the doubt expressed by many courts that unless the accused is apprehended or surrenders his person he cannot be released on bail in accordance with the provision of sections 496 and 497 of the Criminal Procedure Code to change the Law of such charge is necessary. Many accused persons abscond for fear of Police apprehension or torture and would gladly stand a trial and vindicate themselves before a Court of Law if they were assured they will not be unnecessarily remanded to Police custody. The present Police methods of investigation and interrogation from accused are in many places anything but desirable and it is notorious that confessions made by accused while in Police custody are but seldom stuck to in courts. It is not unheard of that the Police abuse the Provisions of Law with regard to bail even in bailable cases. Many honest and respectable persons would prefer ignobly flying away from justice rather than subject themselves to the ignominy and indignity of police arrest and custody. When it is, remembered that a very large percentage of persons prosecuted is discharged or acquitted by courts and malicious prosecutions and false implications by enemies in bailable and non-bailable offences are not rare and under the law as at present interpreted by some courts the ordeal of Police custody is necessary to be undergone by every accused howmuchsover innocent. The need of a change in the Law or to get the doubt at rest in this regard becomes imperatively necessary. This Bill if enacted will enable accused to seek bail from courts even before they surrender themselves and in proper cases the courts will be able to save the honour and reputation of innocent accused and offer them protection from the trouble and indignity of police custody.

At present even if the accused is lying ill in Hospital and is unable to attend personally he cannot apply for bail according to the narrow interpretation of the law by the Courts.

The policy of the law is to enlarge the liberty of the subject and "make the courts more of a shield for the innocent rather than a sword for the guilty". The Courts are armed by law in matters of bail and no change is sought to be introduced in the basic principle which regulate the exercise of the powers to grant or refuse or cancel bail whenever expedient or necessary.

The change is only in respect of persons who can invoke the aid of courts to save themselves from ruthless rigidity of the system which practically enjoins Police custody before the application of bail is disposed of on merits.

Notes on Clauses.

Clauses 2 & 3.—The change sought to be made is clear enough and there is no need of any explanation.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill, was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL NO. 70 OF 1947.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, commencement and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force immediately.

(3) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

2. Amendment of Section 161, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (3) of section 161 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898) (hereinafter referred to as the said Code),—

(a) for the word "may" the word "shall" shall be substituted; and

(b) the words "if he does so he" shall be omitted.

3. Amendment of Section 162, Act V of 1898.—In sub-section (1) of Section 162 of the said Code, the words "if reduced into writing" shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Considerable hardship is caused to the accused and their counsel by giving the option of recording or not the statements referred to to the fancies of the investigating officer. The provision has led also to abuse and the original intention of the Legislature has not been carried out. The amendment seeks to do away with these difficulties and help the administration of justice.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the Hindu Law as interpreted, marriages between Hindus of different castes have been held illegal in many cases. This interpretation besides causing serious hardship in individual cases, has deterred many people from making proper marriage alliances. The progress of the community has also been retarded on account of marriages being confined within very small communities resulting in harmful inter-mixture of blood. The Bill seeks to be in the nature of a permissive measure giving freedom to persons wanting to marry outside their caste or sub-caste but desiring at the same time to solemnize the marriage in accordance with the religious rites and ceremonies, having conscientious dejections to a mere civil marriage. The Bill also introduces some very necessary and desirable measures of social reform for those who want to avail themselves of the proposed measure inasmuch as it introduces registration, raises the age of marriage and also prohibits polygamy. In all other matters it keeps the rights and obligations of a Hindu intact. The Bill also enables such Hindus to take advantage of its provisions who though marrying within their own caste want, as a measure of precaution or reform, to get their marriage registered, raise the age of marriage, and avoid polygamy.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 28th January 1948:—

L. A. Bill No. 1 of 1948

A Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1948.

2. Amendment of section 80, Act V of 1908.—To clause (a) of section 80 of the said Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, the following words shall be added, namely:—

> "or where the suit relates to a railway, the General Manager of that railway".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (as amended by the Adaptation of the Indian Laws Order, 1937) provides for notices of suits against the Central Government being served on a Secretary to that Government, and against the Secretary of State or a Secretary to the Central Government, the Political Secretary, or a Secretary to the Provincial Government of the Province where the suit is instituted. At present notices under this provision pertaining to the affairs of the Indian Government Railways, a major portion of which relate to cases of compensation claims, are received in the Railway Board's office either direct or through other Ministries of the Central Government and in a few cases from Provincial Governments. Notices have then to be forwarded to the General Managers of the Railways concerned for disposal.

This procedure entails considerable avoidable work in the office of the Ministry of Railways, and delays the receipt of notices by Railway Administrations, in some cases with prejudicial results.

It is, therefore, proposed to amend section 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure to provide for notices of suits relating to affairs of a Government Railway being served on the General Manager of the Railway concerned.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

India is an Agricultural country and needs draught animals. India is deficient in milk and also needs milch cattle. The cows and buffaloes and the bullocks provide these two pressing needs. It is therefore necessary to preserve and increase supply of draught animals and milch animals by stoppage of slaughter of cows, bulls, bullocks, he and she-buffaloes and calves of these animals.

Provided that the Board shall not—

(a) supply electricity for any purpose directly to any licensee for use in any part of the area of supply of a bulk-licensee without the consent of the bulk-licensee, unless the licensee to be supplied has an absolute veto on any right of the bulk-licensee to supply electricity for such purpose in the said part of such area, or unless the bulk-licensee is unable or unwilling to supply electricity for such purpose in the said part of such area on reasonable terms and conditions and within a reasonable time; or

(b) supply electricity for any purpose to any person, not being a licensee, for use in any part of the area of supply of a licensee without the consent of the licensee, unless the licensee is unable or unwilling to supply electricity for such purpose in the said part of such area on reasonable terms and conditions and within a reasonable time.

(2) After the Board has declared its intention to supply electricity for any purpose in any area, for which purpose and in which area it is under this section competent to supply electricity, no licensee shall, the provisions of his licence notwithstanding, at any time be entitled without the consent of the Board to supply electricity for that purpose in that area.

(3) For the purposes of sub-section (1) "absolute veto" means an unqualified right vested in a licensee by virtue of any law, licence or other instrument whereby a bulk-licensee is prevented from supplying electricity in any specified area without the consent of the licensee in whom the veto vests.

21. Power to Board to conduct investigations.—Subject so far as the provisions of this section relate to water-power to the previous approval of the Provincial Government, the Board may at its own expense conduct such investigations, experiments and trials as it thinks fit for the improvement of the methods of transmission, distribution and supply of electricity or of the utilisation of fuel, water-power or other means of generating electricity, and may establish and maintain laboratories for the testing and standardisation of electrical instruments and equipment.

22. Loans by Board to licensees.—(1) Subject to any regulations made in this behalf, the Board may make advances to any licensee for the purposes of his undertaking on such terms as the Board thinks proper.

(2) Any licensee may, notwithstanding anything contained in any law or in his memorandum of association or in his licence or in any other instrument regulating his constitution and powers, borrow from the Board under this section or accept from the Board any advance which the Board may under any other provision of this Act make to him.

23. Power to Board to contribute to certain associations.—The Board may, subject to any regulations made in this behalf, pay reasonable subscriptions, whether annual or otherwise, to any association of persons engaged in the generation, distribution or supply of electricity founded for the promotion of their common interests and contribute such sums as it thinks fit to the funds of any recognised society not conducted for profit for the promotion and encouragement of the development and use of electricity or for the improvement of knowledge and education in respect of electricity.

CHAPTER IV.

The Board's Works and Trading Procedure.

27. Preparation of schemes.—With a view to rationalising the producion and supply of electricity in any area the Board may from time to time prepare a scheme, not inconsistent with this Act, for that area, in which provision may be made for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the establishment of the Board's own generating stations;

(b) the designation of generating stations, whether existing stations or new stations, as controlled stations at which electricity shall be generated for the purposes of the Board;

(c) the interconnection, by means of main transmission lines to be constructed or acquired by the Board, of any generating stations with any others and with any systems of licensees;

(d) where a scheme relates to a specified area, the interconnection of the system of the Board in that area with the system of the Board in any other area with respect to which a scheme is in being or may subsequently be made;

(e) the construction or acquisition of such other main transmission lines as the scheme may require;

(f) the use by the Board of any transmission lines or main transmission lines of any licensee;

(g) such supplemental, incidental and consequential provisions as may appear necessary or expedient for any of the purposes aforesaid:

Provided that a scheme shall not, without the consent of the owner,—

(i) designate as a controlled station any generating station belonging to a person other than a licensee;

(ii) authorise the use or acquisition of a transmission line or a main transmission line belonging to a person other than a licensee.

28. Publication and sanctioning of schemes.—(1) The Board shall cause every scheme prepared under section 27 to be published in the official Gazette and in such local newspapers as it may consider necessary, and shall give public notice of the date, not being less than two months after the date of the notice, by which licensees and other persons interested may make representations thereon.

(2) The Board, after considering any such representations and after making such inquiries, if any, as it thinks fit, may sanction the scheme either without modification or subject to such modifications as it thinks fit, and either generally or in respect of any part of the area specified in the published scheme, and shall publish the scheme as sanctioned by it; and where the scheme has been sanctioned in respect of part of the said area, it may subsequently be sanctioned in respect of other parts of that area;

Provided that no sanction shall be accorded by the Board to any scheme or part of a scheme estimated to result in a capital expenditure exceeding twenty-five lakhs of rupees without prior consultation with the Central Technical Power Board and until any recommendations which that Board may, in accordance with the provisions of this Act, make upon such consultation have received due consideration by the Board.

(3) In respect of any scheme to which the proviso to sub-section (2) applies, the Board shall, within one month after being requested by the Central Technical Power Board so to do, supply that Board with all such information incidental or supplementary to the scheme as may be specified in the request.

29. Matters to be considered by Central Technical Power Board.—The Central Technical Power Board shall, before making any recommendations in respect of a scheme upon which it has been consulted under the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 28, have particular regard to whether or not in its opinion—

(a) any river-works proposed by the Board will prejudice the prospects for the best ultimate development of the river or its tributaries for power-generation, consistent with the requirements of irrigation, navigation and flood-control, and for this purpose the Central Technical Power Board shall satisfy itself that an adequate study has been made of the optimum location of dams and other river works;

(b) the proposed scheme will prejudice the proper combination of hydro-electric and thermo-electric power necessary to secure the greatest possible economic output of electric power;

(c) the proposed main transmission lines will be reasonably suitable for regional requirements;

(d) the scheme provides reasonable allowances for expenditure on capital and revenue account;

(e) the estimates of prospective supplies of electricity and revenue therefrom contained in the scheme are rasonable.

30. Recommendations of Central Technical Power Board.—Where the Central Technical Power Board has been consulted under the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 28 in respect of a scheme, it shall forward its recommendations thereon to the Board, sending a copy thereof to the Provincial Government, within six months from the date of the receipt by it of the scheme:

Provided that if the Board fails to supply in due time any information requested under sub-section (3) of section 28, the period within which the Central Technical Power Board shall forward its recommendations shall be correspondingly increased.

31. Carrying out of schemes.—The Board shall carry out and give effect to a scheme as soon as reasonably practicable after it has been sanctioned and published.

32. Power to alter or extend schemes.—The Board may from time to time alter or extend a scheme by a supplementary scheme made and sanctioned in the manner hereinbefore provided:

Provided that any alterations or extensions of a scheme which are in the opinion of the Board minor in character may be made without preparing a supplementary scheme.

33. Controlled stations.—Where a generating station situate within an area for which a scheme is in force has been designated in the scheme as a controlled station, the relations between the Board and the licensee owning the station shall, subject to any arrangements agreed under section 46, be regulated by the provisions of the First Schedule.

34. Supply by the Board to licensees owning generating stations.—The Board may at any time declare to a licensee owning a generating station, other than a controlled station, situate within an area for which a scheme is in force that it is ready to make a supply of electricity available to the licensee for the purposes of his undertaking, and thereupon but without prejudice to the provisions of section 46, the provisions of the Second Schedule shall apply in respect of the relations between the Board and the said licensee.

35. Power to Board to close down generating stations.—The Board may at any time declare to a licensee owning a generating station situate within an area for which a scheme is in force that the station shall be permanently closed down, and thereupon but without prejudice to the provisions of section 46, where the station is a controlled station the provisions of Part III of the First Schedule, or in other cases the provisions of the Third Schedule, shall apply in respect of the relations between the Board and the said licensee with reference to the station to be closed down.

36. Purchase of generating stations or main transmission lines by the Board. (1) Where under the First or Third Schedule any generating station is to be purchased by the Board, or where a sanctioned scheme provides for the purchase by the Board of a main transmission line belonging to any licensee,—

(a) the generating station from such date of purchase as may be fixed under the appropriate schedule, or the main transmission line from such date of purchase as the Board shall, by notice in writing given not less than one month before the said date, intimate to the licensee, shall vest in the Board free, save as provided in sub-section (2), from any debt, mortgage, lien or other similar obligation of the licensee or attaching to the station or line, as the case may be, and any such debt, mortgage, lien or obligation shall, save as aforesaid, attach to the purchase-money in substitution of the station or line;

(b) without prejudice to the provisions of section 46, the Board shall pay, or tender payment of, the price to be determined in accordance with the Fourth Schedule as soon as the amount thereof has been determined.

together with interest on such amount from the date of purchase to the date of payment or tender of payment as aforesaid at the rate of one per centum over the average of the Reserve Bank rates between the said dates;

(c) the receipt of the licensee shall, nothwithstanding anything in any other law, be a full and sufficient discharge to the Board for the payment due in respect of the purchase.

(2) Where a generating station or main transmission line purchased by the Board under this Act is in course of construction, extension or repair at the date of purchase, the rights and liabilities of the former owner thereof under any contract for such construction, extension or repair shall be transferred to the Board.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act, where any generating station purchased by the Board under this Act contains any plant or apparatus which, while the station was in operation, were used jointly for the purposes of generation and transmission or distribution or wholly for the purposes of transmission or distribution, then unless otherwise agreed between the Board and the licensee, such plant or apparatus shall not be purchased by the Board but shall remain the property of the licensee.

37. Provision of new generating stations.—The Board may itself establish a new generating station in any area in which it is required by any sanctioned scheme to be situated, or may make arrangements with any licensee or other person for the establishment of a new generating station required by a sanctioned scheme.

38. Operation of Board's generating stations.—Where the Board itself establishes a new generating station or acquires a generating station otherwise than for the purpose of closing it down, it may operate the station itself or make arrangements with any licensee or other person for its operation.

39. Provision regarding connections with main transmission lines purchased by the Board.—Where the Board has purchased a main transmission line and by reason of the user thereof by the Board the alteration or replacement of switch-gear or other apparatus of any licensees connected with the line becomes necessary, the Board shall defray the reasonable expenses incurred by the licensees in effecting such alteration or replacement; and any question whether such alteration or replacement is necessary or whether the expenses incurred in connection therewith are reasonable shall in default of agreement be determined as provided under section 71.

40. Use by Board of transmission lines.—(1) Where the Board considers it necessary to use for any of its purposes any transmission lines or main transmission lines of a licensee, the Board shall have power to use such lines to the extent to which the capacity thereof is surplus to the requirements of the licensee for the transmission of electricity, on payment of charges calculated in accordance with the provisions of the Fifth Schedule.

(2) The Board may, by agreement with any licensee or other person, use any transmission line or main transmission line of that licensee or person for such time and upon such terms as may be agreed.

41. Powers to Board for placing wires, poles, etc.—Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 12 to 16 and 18 and 19 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), but without prejudice to the requirements of section 17 of that Act, where provision in such behalf is made in a sanctioned scheme, the Board shall have, for the placing of any wires, poles, wall-brackets, stays, apparatus and appliances for the transmission and distribution of electricity, or for the transmission of telegraphic or telephonic communications necessary for the proper co-ordination of the works of the Board, all the powers which the telegraph authority possesses under Part III of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 (XIII of 1885) with regard to a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained:

Provided that where a sanctioned scheme does not make such provision as aforesaid, all the provisions of sections 12 to 19 of the first-mentioned Act shall apply to the works of the Board.

42. Power to Board to enter into arrangements for purchase or sale of electricity under certain conditions.—(1) The Board may enter into arrangements with any person producing electricity within the Province for the purchase by the Board on such terms as may be agreed of any surplus electricity of which that person may be able to dispose.

(2) Where a sanctioned scheme so provides, the Board may, on such terms as may be agreed, enter into arrangements with any Government or person for the purchase or sale of electricity to be generated or used outside the Province:

Provided that the Board may not enter into such arrangements with any such Government or person without the consent of the Provincial Government, or into arrangements with any such person without the consent of the Government of the Province within which the electricity is to be generated or used.

43. Restriction of establishment of new generating stations or major additions or replacement of plant in generating stations.—(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any licence but subject to the provisions of this Act, it shall not be lawful for a licensee, or any other person not being a Federal Railway administration except with the previous consent in writing of the Board, to establish or acquire a new generating station or to extend or replace any major unit of plant or works pertaining to the generation of electricity in a generating station:

Provided that such consent shall not, except in relation to a controlled station, be withheld unless within three months from the date of receipt of an application—

(a) for consent to the establishment or acquisition of a new generating station, the Board—

(i) gives to the applicant being a licensee an undertaking that it is competent to, and will, within eighteen months from the said date, afford to him a supply of electricity equivalent to that required by him pursuant to his application, or

(ii) shows to the applicant good and sufficient reasons for a belief that the electricity required by him pursuant to his application could be more economically obtained within a reasonable time from another appropriate source;

(b) for consent to the extension or replacement of any major unit of plant or works as aforesaid, the Board—

(i) gives to the applicant being a licensee an undertaking that within eighteen months from the said date either the station to which the application pertains will become a controlled station in terms of section 33, or the Board will make a declaration to the applicant in terms of section 34 offering him a supply of electricity equivalent to that required by him pursuant to his application, or the Board will make a declaration to him in terms of section 35, or

(ii) shows to the applicant good and sufficient reasons for a belief that the electricity required by him pursuant to his application could be more economically obtained within a reasonable time from another appropriate source or by other appropriate means.

(2) There shall be stated in every application under this section such particulars as the Board may reasonably require of the station, plant or works, as the case may be, in respect of which it is made, and where consent is given thereto, in acting in pursuance of such consent, the applicant shall not, without the further consent of the Board, make any material variation in the particulars so stated.

44. Provided that the committee shall not recommend any alteration in a licensee's charges for electricity which would in its reasonable estimation result in preventing the licensee from earning clear profits sufficient when taken with the sums available in Tariffs and Dividends Control Reserve A to afford him a reasonable return during his next three succeeding years of account.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this clause, the expressions "clear profits", "Tariffs and Dividends Control Reserve A" and "reasonable return" have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Sixth Schedule.

(d) Within one month after the receipt of the report under clause (c) the Provincial Government shall cause the report to be published in the official Gazette, and may at the same time make an order in accordance therewith fixing the licensee's charges for the supply of electricity with effect from such date, not earlier than two months or later than three months after the date of publication of the report, as may be specified in the order; and the licensee shall forthwith give effect to such order:

(i) the sums ascertained in accordance with clause (a) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule in respect of each of the several controlled stations shall be separately allocated between fixed costs and running costs, and

(ii) the sum of the several fixed costs and the sum of the several running costs shall be the fixed costs and the running costs respectively of the combined station;

(d) in directing the operation of the combined station under clause (b) of sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 1, the Board shall have regard to the nature and capacity of the licensee's transmission system interconnecting the several controlled stations and to the requirements of the licensee at each of those stations.

8. In the event of the licensee failing, except where prevented by causes beyond his control, to perform or continue to perform any obligation imposed upon him under this Part, the Board may give notice to him in writing that on the first day of the licensee's next succeeding year of account the generating station will be purchased by the Board, and on such day the Board shall purchase the station at a price determined in accordance with the Fourth Schedule; and thereafter—

(a) all the provisions of this Schedule except paragraph 2 and this paragraph shall, in relation to the licensee, cease to have effect;

(b) the Board shall supply the licensee with the electricity required by him under paragraph 2 at such price and on such conditions as the Board may determine.

PART II.

Price to be paid for electricity supplied by the Board under Part I.

9. There shall be agreed between the Board and the licensee in respect of each month of the licensee's year of account—

(a) the maximum capacity of the station, that is to say, the maximum capacity (expressed in kilowatts available for supply to feeders) of such plant and works appertaining to the generation of electricity at the station as were available for reliable and regular commercial operation on the first day of the month, including the capacity of such plant and works as were temporarily out of commission;

(b) the number and size of units of plant and works, forming part of the aforesaid plant and works, which ought properly to be deemed to be standby if the station were not a controlled station;

(c) the standby capacity of the station, that is to say, the number of kilowatts (expressed in kilowatts available for supply to feeders) by which the maximum capacity of the station would be reduced if the standby plant and works referred to in clause (b) were to be left out of account;

(d) the actual effective capacity of the station, that is to say, the number of kilowatts by which the maximum capacity exceeds the standby capacity.

10. (1) The licensee shall be entitled to purchase from the station in each month at a price determined under paragraph 13 a number of kilowatts not exceeding the scheduled effective capacity of the station on the first day of that month as determined in sub-paragraph (2).

(2) The scheduled effective capacity of the station shall be agreed between the Board and the licensee in respect of each month of the year of account, and shall be computed in the same manner as the actual effective capacity under paragraph 9, except that there shall be left out of account such units of plant and works, if any, forming part of the plant and works referred to in clause (a) of the said paragraph, as the licensee declares to be surplus to his requirements for the time being:

Provided that the licensee shall not declare to be surplus to his requirements any such units of plant or works as were installed or were on order at the date of control or which were included in any previous computation of the scheduled effective capacity:

Provided further that if as a result of the licensee declaring as surplus to his requirements any units of plant or works, the scheduled effective capacity is in respect of any month computed to be less than the maximum demand of the licensee on the station for the purposes of his own undertaking, then such units of plant or works and all further additional units of plant or works shall thereafter always be deemed to be surplus to the requirements of the licensee as aforesaid.

11. The licensee shall be entitled to purchase from the Board in each month at a price determined under paragraph 13 a number of kilowatt-hours not exceeding the number of kilowatt-hours which bears the same proportion to the total number of kilowatt-hours purchased by the licensee from the Board in the month as the scheduled effective capacity for the month bears to the maximum demand of the licensee on the Board in that month.

Provided that if the station is a hydro-electric station or if any unit of a combined station is a hydro-electric unit, the number of kilowatt-hours which the licensee shall be entitled to purchase as aforesaid shall be reduced by such amount, if any, as may be agreed between the Board and the licensee, having regard to the number of kilowatt-hours actually supplied in the month from such hydro-electric station or unit.

12. As soon as practicable after the end of a year of account—

(a) there shall be ascertained in respect of that year the cost of production at the station in accordance with the provisions of the Eighth Schedule;

(b) there shall be deducted from the total sum ascertained in respect of that year under clauses (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule, such proportion of the charges referred to in the said clauses as are wholly attributable to so much of the plant and works, if any, as has been declared by the licensee under sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 10 to be surplus to his requirements, and the balance remaining after such deduction shall for the purposes of this Schedule be referred to as the scheduled overhead charges:

Provided that in assessing the said proportion regard shall be had to the period during which any such plant or works were declared to be surplus as aforesaid;

(c) there shall be allocated between fixed costs and running costs in accordance with the provisions of the Ninth Schedule the sum ascertained in respect of that year under clause (a) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule, and the amount of running costs divided by the number of kilowatt-hours supplied from the station in that year shall for the purposes of this Schedule be referred to as the running charges component;

(d) there shall be ascertained in respect of that year an amount (in this Schedule referred to as the scheduled fixed works costs) calculated from the expression, "$\frac{A}{2} + \frac{A}{2} \times \frac{B}{C}$" where—

A = the amount of fixed costs ascertained in respect of that year under clause (c);

B = the sum of the scheduled effective capacities for each month of that year;

C = the sum of the actual effective capacities for each month of that year

13. The licensee shall pay to the Board in respect of each month of the year of account for the electricity purchased under paragraphs 10 and 11—

(a) in respect of kilowatts, a sum equal to one-twelfth of the sum of the scheduled overhead charges and the scheduled fixed works costs;

(b) in respect of kilowatt-hours a sum found by multiplying the number of kilowatt-hours supplied by the running charges component:

Provided that if in any year of account the station for any reason ceases to generate electricity for one thousand hours or more, then for the purposes of ascertaining the running charges component and the scheduled fixed works costs under clauses (c) and (d) respectively of paragraph 12—

(i) the said clause (c) shall be construed as if there were substituted for the words "that year" in both places where they occur, the words "the most recent year of account in which the station did not cease to generate electricity for one thousand hours or more" and as if to the said clause the following provisos were added, namely:—

"Provided that so much of the said sum as is represented by the cost of fuel shall be adjusted to take account of the cost which would have been incurred had that fuel been consumed at the prices prevailing in the actual year of account":

(ii) in evaluating the expression contained in the said clause (d), the letter C shall be deemed to be equal to the sum of the actual effective capacities for each month of the most recent year of account in which the station did not cease to generate electricity for one thousand hours or more:

Provided further that if in any year of account there exist in the station any units of plant or works which have been declared by the licensee under sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 10 to be surplus to his requirements in that year, there shall be added to the running charges component in respect of that year the amount, if any, by which that part of the said component attributable to the cost of fuel is less than ninety per centum of the corresponding part of the running charges component in respect of the year of account immediately preceding that in which earliest installed of the said units of plant or works first came into commercial operation in the station, and in ascertaining the corresponding part as aforesaid, the fuel consumed shall be deemed to be of the same average quality and to be consumed at the same average cost per ton as the fuel consumed in the year of account:

Provided further that if in respect of any month of the year of account any units of plant or works previously declared by the licensee as aforesaid to be surplus to his requirements are for the first time taken into account in assessing the scheduled effective capacity for that month, then in addition to the payment referred to in clause (a) the licensee shall pay to the Board a sum eqeual to any sums previously paid by the Board to the licensee on revenue account (in respect of any period prior to the date on which the said units of plant or works came into commission) by way of interest, depreciation, testing and tuning-up expenses attributable to the said units of plant or works; and the sum to be paid as aforesaid shall become due in one or more instalments and at such time or times as the Board may direct.

14. The price payable by the licensee to the Board for all electricity supplied by the Board to him in excess of the quantities referred to in paragraphs 10 and 11 shall be the Grid Tariff.

15. The licensee shall have the right at any time, on giving to the Board prior notice in writing expiring at the end of any year of account, to purchase from the Board at the Grid Tariff the whole of the electricity supplied to him by the Board:

Provided that the Board in those circumstances may make it a condition that the licensee shall, until the date on which the scheduled effective capacity of the station becomes nil, pay to the Board in respect of each month in addition to the Grid Tariff one-twelfth of such proportion as the Board may fix of the annual charges by way of interest and depreciation which would have been payable to the Board in respect of the year of account had the said notice not been given:

Provided further that in assessing the scheduled effective capacity for the purposes of the first proviso all units of plant or works which may have been under this Schedule declared or deemed to be surplus to the requirements of the licensee at the date of the expiration of the said notice and all additional units of plant or works shall after that date always be deemed to be surplus to the requirements of the licensee:

Provided further that after the expiration of the said notice the licensee shall not be entitled any time to purchase electricity from the Board at the price ascertained under paragraph 13.

PART III.

Permanent closing down of a controlled station.

16. The Board may give the licensee not less than six months' notice in writing expiring at the end of any year of account that from the first day of the next succeeding year of account it will not again direct the licensee to generate any electricity in the station, and upon that date (hereinafter in this Schedule referred to as the date of closing down) the station shall be permanently closed down.

17. From the date of closing down paragraphs 1, 4 and 8 shall, in relation to the station, cease to have effect, and on receipt of the notice under paragraph 16 the licensee shall have the option (to be exercised by a date not later than three months prior to the date of closing down) either—

(a) (i) to sell the station for his own benefit at any time after the date of closing down, and

(ii) to purchase the electricity supplied to him by the Board at the Grid Tariff, or

(b) (i) to require the Board to purchase the station at the date of closing down at a price determined under the Fourth Schedule, and

(ii) to purchase the electricity supplied to him by the Board in accordance with the provisions of Part II as modified by paragraph 18.

18. Where a licensee exercises his option under paragraph 17 in terms of clause (b) thereof, the Board shall comply with the requirement to purchase the station under sub-clause (i) of that clause, and in applying the provisions of Part II to the purchase by the licensee of electricity supplied to him by the Board,—

(a) the station shall, notwithstanding that it has been permanently closed down, be deemed to remain a controlled station in operation but to be such a station which has ceased to generate electricity for one thousand hours or more during each year of account;

(b) clause (a) of paragraph 9 shall be construed as if the following were substituted therefor, namely:—

"(a) the maximum capacity of the station, that is to say, the maximum capacity (expressed in kilowatts available for supply to feeders) of such plant and works appertaining to the generation of electricity at the date of closing down as would have been available for reliable and regular commercial operation on the first day of each month, had the station not been closed down under Part III and had no replacement of any major item of such plant or works been carried out:"

(c) clause (a) of paragraph 12 shall be construed as if the following were substituted therefor, namely:—

"(a) there shall be ascertained in respect of the year of account such annual charges by way of interest and depreciation attributable to the assets purchased by the Board under Part III as would have resulted from the application of clauses (e) and (f) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule had those assets remained in the ownership of the licensee;"

(d) clause (b) of paragraph 12 shall be construed as if the reference therein to clauses (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule were omitted.

(e) there shall be added to the sum payable by the licensee to the Board under clause (a) of paragraph 13 in each month of the year of account a sum equal to one-twelfth of the amount calculated from the expression, "$\frac{A \times B}{C}$" where—

A = that part of the scheduled overhead charges payable by the licensee to the Board in respect of the most recent year of account during which the station did not cease to generate electricity for one thousand hours or more, which relates to the items referred to in clauses (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule;

B = the sum of the scheduled effective capacities for each month of the year of account;

C = the sum of the scheduled effective capacities for each month of the most recent year of account as aforesaid.

PART IV.

Purchase by Board of controlled station not to be closed down.

19. Where in respect of any month notified by the Board (and hereinafter in this Schedule referred to as the relevant month), the scheduled effective capacity of the station is computed under paragraph 10 to be less than one-half of the actual effective capacity of the station, the Board may give to the licensee six months' notice in writing that on the first day of the year of account next following the date of expiration of such notice the station will be purchased by the Board.

20. Notwithstanding anything contained in paragraph 10, in computing the Scheduled effective capacity for purposes of paragraph 19 there shall be left out of account all such units of plant and works as would not reasonably have been required by the licensee for purposes other than supply to the Board had the station not been a controlled station.

21. Where a notice under paragraph 19 has been served by the Board on the licensee, the Board shall purchase the station at the date specified in the notice and at a price determined under the Fourth Schedule.

22. From the date of purchase of the station under paragraph 21 the provisions of paragraphs 1, 4 and 8 shall, in relation to the station, cease to have effect, and the licensee shall be required to purchase the electricity supplied to him by the Board in accordance with the provisions of Part II as modified by paragraph 23.

23. In applying the provisions of Part II to the purchase by a licensee whose station has been purchased under his Part of electricity supplied to him by the Board,—

(a) the station shall, notwithstanding that it has been purchased by the Board, be deemed to remain a controlled station;

(b) clause (a) of paragraph 12 shall be construed as if the reference therein to the provisions of the Eighth Schedule excluded a reference to clauses (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph 1 of that Schedule, and as if the following proviso were added to the said clause (a), namely:—

"Provided that the annual charges to be included in accordance with clauses (e) and (f) of paragraph 1 of the said Schedule shall be such as would have resulted had the assets purchased by the Board under Part IV remained in the ownership of the licensee";

(c) clause (b) of paragraph 12 shall be construed as if the reference therein to clauses (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule were omitted;

(d) there shall be added to the sum payable by the licensee to the Board under clause (a) of paragraph 13 in each month of the year of account a sum equal to one-twelfth of the amount calculated from the expression, "$\frac{A \times B}{C}$" where—

A = that part of the scheduled overhead charges payable by the licensee to the Board in respect of the last year of account in which the station was in the ownership of the licensee, which relates to the items referred to in clauses (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph 1 of the Eighth Schedule;

B = the sum of the scheduled effective capacities for each month of the year of account;

C = the sum of the scheduled effective capacities for each month of the said last year of account.

THE EIGHTH SCHEDULE.

(See the First and Third Schedules.)

Determination of cost of production of electricity at generating stations.

1. For the purposes of the First and Third Schedules, the cost of production of electricity at a generating station shall be ascertained by calculating and taking into account the following costs, charges and allowances in respect of the year of account, namely:—

(a) sums expended for fuel, oil, water and stores consumed, for salaries and wages, and any contribution by the licensee for pensions, provident fund, superannuation and insurance of officers and servants, for repairs and maintenance and for renewals not chargeable to capital account;

(b) sums paid in respect of the station as rents, rates and taxes (including super-tax payable by the licensee as a company but excluding other taxes on profits) and for insurance;

(c) the proportion of management and general establishment charges properly attributable to the station;

(d) any other expenses on revenue account properly attributable to the station;

(e) interest on money properly expended for capital purposes (whether defrayed out of capital or revenue) and attributable to the station, and interest on working capital properly attributable to the station and the production of electricity therein:

Provided that for the purpose of ascertaining the principal on which interest is payable within the meaning of this clause, there shall be left out of account any part of principal on which interest is payable out of capital;

(f) an allowance for depreciation of an amount determined in respect of the station in accordance with the scale set out in the Seventh Schedule.

2. For the purposes of clause (e) of paragraph 1 of the rate of interest shall be—

(a) on such part of the principal on which interest is payable within the meaning of the said clause as has been advanced on loan by the Board under paragraph 1 of the First Schedule, the actual rate charged by the Board on the loan in the year of account;

(b) on the balance of the said principal,—

(i) where the licensee owning the station is a local authority, the average rate payable in the year of account on the money raised by that authority for the purposes of the station.

(ii) in any other case, 2½ per centum per annum over the average Reserve Bank rate in the year of account.

THE NINTH SCHEDULE.

(See the First Schedule.)

Allocation of costs of production at generating stations.

1. For the purposes of this Schedule—

(a) the average load Factor of a station shall be expressed as a percentage, and shall be ascertained by multiplying the number of kilowatt-hours supplied from the station during the year of account by 100, and dividing the product so obtained by the product of the average monthly maximum demand multiplied by the number of hours during which the station was in commission in the year of account;

(b) the average monthly maximum demand shall be the arithmetical average of the monthly maximum demands on the station in those calendar months during which the station was in commission in the year of account;

(c) a station shall be deemed to be in commission when the whole or any portion of the plant in the station is generating electricity or is in readiness to generate electricity upon demand;

(d) "cost of fuel" means the sums expended for fuel consumed plus the cost of any transport, handling, preparation or treatment incurred in connection with the delivery of fuel to the boiler hoppers, furnaces or engines and in connection with the disposal of the products or residues of combustion, plus the proportion of salaries and wages and any contributions made by the owner of the station for pensions, provident fund, superannuation and insurance of officers and servants properly attributable to such delivery or disposal, less any sums received from the sale of any products or residues of combustion;

(e) "cost of oil, water and stores" means the sums expended for oil, water and stores consumed;

(f) "cost of repairs, maintenance and renewals" means the sums expended for repairs and maintenance and for renewals not chargeable to capital account, together with the proportion of salaries and wages and any contributions made by the owner of the station for pensions, provident fund superannuation and insurance of officers and servants properly attributable to repairs, maintenance and renewals;

(g) "salaries and wages" means the sums expended for salaries and wages and any contributions made by the owner of the station for pensions, provident fund, superannuation and insurance of officers and servants, less the proportion of such sums properly attributable to the cost of fuel under clause (d) and to the cost of repairs, maintenance and renewals under clause (f).

2. Of the costs of production of electricity at a generating station ascertained in accordance with the Eighth Schedule, the following costs, charges and allowances in respect of the year of account shall be allocated as "fixed costs", namely:—

(a) of the costs, charges and allowances set out in clause (a) of paragraph 1 of the said Schedule, portions calculated from the appropriate formulae set out in paragraph 3;

(b) the whole of the costs, charges and allowances set out in the remaining clauses of paragraph 1 of the said Schedule.

3. The portion of the following costs, charges and allowances to be allocated as fixed costs shall be ascertained from the formula hereinafter set out against each, namely:—

(a) cost of fuel .. .. .. $\dfrac{100}{100 + 12{\cdot}8\ L}$;

(b) cost of oil, water and stores .. .. $\dfrac{100}{100 + 9{\cdot}66\ L}$;

(c) salaries and wages .. .. .. $\dfrac{100}{100 + 0{\cdot}38\ L}$;

(d) cost of repairs, maintenance and renewals .. $\dfrac{100}{100 + 0{\cdot}0001\ NL}$;

N = the number of hours during which the station was in commission in the year of account.

4. The amount of the difference between the costs of production at a generating station ascertained in accordance with the Eighth Schedule and the fixed costs in respect of the year of account determined in accordance with this Schedule shall be allocated as "running costs".

5. The foregoing provisions of this Schedule shall not apply in any case where it is agreed between the Board and the owner of the station that the circumstances or conditions of operation in the station, whether temporary or continuing, are such that the said provisions ought not reasonably to be applied; and in such case the allocation between fixed costs and running costs shall be made in such manner as the Board and the said owner may agree.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The co-ordinated development of electricity in India on a regional basis is a matter of increasingly urgent importance for post-war reconstruction and development. The absence of co-ordinated system, in which generation is concentrated in the most efficient units and bulk supply of energy centralised under the direction and control of one authority is one of the factors that impedes the healthy and economical growth of electrical development in this country. Besides, it is becoming more and more apparent that if the benefits of electricity are to be extended to semi-urban and rural areas in the most efficient and economical manner consistent with the needs of an entire region, the area of development must transcend the geographical limits of a Municipality, a Cantonment Board or a Notified Area Committee, as the case may be. It has, therefore, become necessary that the appropriate Governments should be vested with the necessary legislative powers to link together under one control electrical development in contiguous areas by the establishment of what is generally known as the "Grid System". In the circumstances of this country such a system need not necessarily involve inter-connection throughout the length and breadth of a Province; regional co-ordination inclusive of some measure of inter-connection may be all that is needed. An essential pre-requisite is, however, the acquisition of necessary legislative power not only to facilitate the establishment of this system in newly licensed areas but also to control the operations of existing licensees so as to secure fully co-ordinated development.

2. Government feel that it is not possible to legislate for this purpose within the framework of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, which was conceived for a very different purpose. In their view what is needed is specific legislation; on the broad lines of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, in force in the United Kingdom, which will enable Provincial Governments to set up suitable organizations to work out "Grid Schemes" within the territorial limits of the Provinces. Although executive power under the proposed Bill will necessarily vest in the Provinces, two considerations indicate the necessity for Central legislation:—

(i) the need for uniformity in the organization and development of the "Grid System", and

(ii) the necessity for the constitution of semi-autonomous bodies like Electricity Boards to administer the "Grid Systems". In the view of Government it is bodies like these which are likely to be the most suitable organizations for working the "Grid Systems" on quasi-commercial lines. Such Boards cannot, however, be set up by Provincial Governments under the existing Constitutional Act as they would be in the nature of trading corporations within the meaning of Entry 33 of the Federal Legislative List.

3. The Notes on Clauses will briefly explain the main provisions of the Bill. Similar notes on the technical schedules have been enclosed.

Notes on Clauses.

PREAMBLE.

CHAPTER I.—INTRODUCTORY.

Clause 1.—The Bill is designed so that after it has been passed into law by the Central Legislature, any Provincial Government which wishes to adopt its provisions in supplementation of the provisions of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, can do so.

Clause 2.—Definitions.

CHAPTER II.—PROVINCIAL ELECTRICITY BOARDS.

Clause 3.—This deals with the constitution of Provincial Electricity Boards. It ensures, inter alia, that these Boards shall contain at least three full-time members with adequate qualifications and who have not recently been directly connected with party politics. Provincial Governments have the option of appointing up to four additional members (who may be full-time or part-time) in consultation with interested parties.

Clause 4.—This Clause enables a Province which is not strong in technical experts to take advantage of the juxtaposition of a Province which has, or is about to constitute, a Board for itself, and to arrange by agreement with such a neighbouring Province for its Board to carry out the functions of the Act in both Provinces. The Clause is purely permissive, and the detailed arrangements between two Provinces as to their representation on the Board, financial considerations, etc., are largely left to be settled by mutual agreement. It has been necessary to ensure that where two Provinces have agreed in terms of this Clause, it shall not be an arrangement lightly to be dissolved. This is because the ownership of so much property previously belonging to either Province will have been transferred to the joint Board. Hence the provision requiring an agreement under this Clause to have permanent effect. But that does not mean that the two Provinces could not terminate such an agreement by suitable legislation.

Clause 5.—Matters consequential on Clause 4.

Clause 6.—Provides for different terms of office of members of a Provincial Board, so as to ensure continuity of policy.

Clause 7.—A provision to ensure that full-time members of the Board shall be entirely disinterested parties.

Clause 8.—To ensure that Members of a Board (and particularly part-time members who are not affected by Clause 7) shall not vote when subjects come up in which they have an interest. The provision has a parallel in the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

Clause 9.—Deals with the usual provisions for disqualification of a member, and also debars a member from becoming directly connected with party politics.

Clause 15.
} Self-explanatory.

Clause 16.—Provides for the constitution and use of Regional Advisory Committees, which may be required by certain Provinces.

CHAPTER III.—POWERS AND DUTIES OF PROVINCIAL ELECTRICITY BOARDS.

Clause 17.—This sets out the main duties of Provincial Boards, namely to promote co-ordinated development of the supply of electricity within a Province in the most efficient and economical manner, with particular reference to such development of areas not for the time being served by any licensee. In particular the Boards are to—

(a) prepare and carry out schemes mentioned later in the Bill;

(b) supply electricity to owners of stations which are known as "controlled" stations under the Bill, and to licensees whose stations are closed down by the Board;

(c) supply electricity as soon as possible to any other licensees or persons requiring such supply and to whom the Board may be competent under this Act so to supply. This last reference to "competence" is dealt with in Clause 18.

Clause 18.—Provides that the existing statutory rights and obligations of a licensee under the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, shall not be derogated by a Board unless a licensee is not himself carrying out his development duties satisfactorily.

Clause 19.—Gives powers to a Board to promote the development of electricity by the manufacture, purchase, sale or hire of apparatus. Also provides that a Board may maintain shops and show-rooms, and conduct advertising campaigns.

Clause 20.—Enables a Board to investigate the possibilities of co-ordinating sources of thermal and water power in a Province. The approval of the Provincial Government is necessary before the Board undertakes water power investigations as this is a purely provincial subject.

Clause 21.
Clause 22.
} Self-explanatory.

Clause 23.—Enables a Board to subscribe to associations conducted for purposes conducive to the development of electricity.

Clause 24.—Enables a Board to appoint consulting engineers.

Clause 25.—Gives to a Board all the powers and certain obligation applicable to a licensee under the Indian Electricity Act, 1910. A Board' obligations as a licensee are qualified in that certain sections of that Ac applicable to ordinary licensees would be in conflict with the specific re quirements of this Bill appertaining to a Board alone.

Clause 26.—Self-explanatory.

CHAPTER IV.—BOARD'S WORKS AND TRADING PROCEDURE.

Clause 27.—Relates to the preparation of schemes by a Board, an outlines broadly what these schemes may cover. It is not necessary to purposes of the main provisions of scheme that a Board should have t go into details of all its proposed trading arrangement and its propose distribution of electricity from major transmission lines. It will suffice t give a general outline of the major works to be undertaken, and their costs so that the Board's proposals can be apprised by the public and othe interested parties.

Clause 28.—Provides for publication of a Board's scheme, and for con sultation, in respect of any really large schemes (exceeding Rs. 25 lakhs o capital expenditure), with the Central Government's Technical Powe Board. The latter organisation is an advisory body, and the object of re quiring such consultation with it is in the interests of nation-wide co ordination.

Clause 29.—Sets out the particular aspects of co-ordination to which the Central Technical Power Board must give primary consideration.

Clause 30.
Clause 31. } Self-explanatory.
Clause 32.

Clause 33.—Governs the procedure to be adopted when the Board selects a generating station to be a "controlled" station. Such "controlled" stations will form the backbone of an economically co-ordinated supply system. The trading relationship which a Board may statutorily insist upon between itself and a controlled station is set out at length in the First Schedule. Circumstances may dictate that all the provisions of the First Schedule are not necessarily desirable in every case, and hence the Board and the owner of the controlled station may agree, under clause 46, to modify the trading provisions of the First Schedule.

Clause 34.—Enables a Board to give a part supply of electricity to a licensee owning a generating station, where the Board does not consider it expedient to make that station a "controlled station". Here again Clause 46 ensures that the provisions of the relevant Schedule (Second Schedule) need only be applied if the Board and the owner of the station do not desire, or cannot agree, to alternative terms.

Clause 35.—Enables a Board permanently to close down generating stations which it considers uneconomic, where it can make other suitable arrangements for the supply of electricity. Here again Clause 46 provides for alternative arrangements if the Board and the licensee agree in lieu of the provisions of the First or Third Schedules.

Clause 36.—Deals with the transfer of, and payment for, generating stations or main transmission lines purchased by a Board. Unless otherwise agreed under Clause 46 the provisions of the Fourth Schedule will apply.

Clause 37.
Clause 38. } Self-explanatory.
Clause 39.

Clause 40.—Enables a Board to use any transmission lines of licensee for his own purposes if there is surplus capacity available in the lines. The terms of such use may be arranged by agreement or the Board may rely on the provisions of the Fifth Schedule.

Clause 41.—Gives the Board the powers of the Telegraph Authority in respect to the placing of transmission apparatus in circumstances where its powers as a licensee under the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, would not be adequate for the purpose. In particular the powers of the Telegraph Authority might be required when laying transmission lines across long stretches of open country, but these powers cannot be used in respect of any particular line unless such use has been specified in a sanctioned scheme in connection with that line.

Clause 42.—Gives a general power to a Board to enter into arrangements for purchase or sale of electricity with any person (whether a licensee or not). It also gives qualified additional powers to the Board to enter into similar arrangements with any neighbouring Province, or other authority outside the Province.

Clause 43.—Gives to a Board a qualified right to control the establishment of new generating stations or the extension of old generating stations (whether owned by a licensee or not). This provision is in the interests of national economy. The Board is required to show good reasons before exercising control.

Clause 44.—Enables a Board to enforce its directions concerning the closing down of generating stations or establishment, or extension of plant.

Clause 45.—Sets out the main principles governing the quotation by a Board of a special tariff at which it will sell electricity to a licensee in each area for which a scheme is in force.

Clause 46.—This is a clause enabling a Board to make arrangements in respect of its trading with a licensee by mutual agreement, if it feels that circumstances require the specific provisions of the First, Second, Third or Fourth Schedules to be modified. However, the Board is required at all times not to show undue preference.

Clause 47.—Removes any previously existing legal objections against the carrying out of arrangements sanctioned by the Bill.

Clause 48.—Gives a Board wide powers to regulate its tariffs for supply to all persons requiring electricity (other than licensees), subject always to the requirement that undue preference shall not be shown.

Clause 49.—Brings it to notice that a Board cannot attempt to enter into certain arrangements unless it is in a position to carry out one of the fundamental requirements of any such arrangement, namely that the Board can supply the other party's requirements of electricity itself, and is not debarred from so doing by Clause 18.

Clause 50.—Deals with provisional payments of monies due to and from a Board until final accounts can be settled.

Clause 51.—Is to ensure that excessively low power factors shall be remedied, if required by a Board, where it is selling electricity to a licensee. The Board can make regulations governing the power factor in connection with its supply to other persons under Clause 48.

Clause 52.—Ensures to a Board that its arrangements shall not be hindered by lack of available facilities.

Clause 53.—Ensures that a Board shall have means at its disposal to measure and control supplies of energy under the Bill.

Clause 54.—A general provision requiring all licensees to obey a Board's directions in respect of economy and efficiency in the operation of their generating stations. Penalty for disregard of this provision is laid down in Clause 75.

Clause 55.—Ensures that no licensee owning a generating station can, without valid reasons approved by a Board, avoid the objects of the Statute by hiring or leasing a generating station. It will be remembered that, as it is a duty of a Board to insure the best possible development of electric service, the Board cannot be unreasonable in its interpretation of this clause.

Clause 56.—Introduces the important Sixth Schedule and governs price control by a Board with respect to licensees not being local authorities.

Clause 57.—Extends the provisions of price control by a Board to licensees who are local authorities, and in whose cases the provisions of the Sixth Schedule are not entirely suitable owing to special features of public financing.

NOTE:—Clauses 56, 57 and the Sixth Schedule are under reference to a special Central "Advisory Board" set up under section 35 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910. The recommendations of this Advisory Board have yet to be received for further consideration by the Central Government.

CHAPTER V.—THE BOARD'S FINANCE, ACCOUNTS AND AUDIT.

Clause 58.—Covers the general principle of a Board's finance, namely that as far as practicable the operations of the Board shall not be carried out at a loss, after taking into account any subsidies received from the Provincial Government, and that the Board's charges shall be adjusted accordingly. The clause also provides that working expenses may be paid out of capital if circumstances warrant, subject to the approval of the Provincial Government.

Clause 59.—Refers to the taking over by a Board of all relevant obligations incurred by the Provincial Government prior to the constitution of the Board.

Clause 60.—Regulates the submission by a Board of annual financial atements to the Provincial Government. Such statements are to be laid efore the Provincial Legislatures, for discussion but not vote.

Clause 61.
Clause 62. } Self-explanatory.
Clause 63.

Clause 64.—Gives power to a Board to borrow, subject to approval of ne Provincial Government by the issue of bonds of stock. The Clause lso provides that the Board may not amortise its borrowings. This is ecause the Board is required under Clause 67 to provide adequate depreation of its assets, and borrowings should not be separately amortised.

Clause 65.
Clause 66.
Clause 67. } Self-explanatory.
Clause 68.

CHAPTER VI.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Clause 69.—Provides that the contents of the Bill shall take preceence where they conflict with other laws or instruments.

Clause 70.—Transfers to a Board the rights previously vested in Proincial Governments or local authorities in respect of purchase of underiking, where option to purchase arises under the Indian Electricity Act, 910.

Clause 71.—Requires that where a Provincial Government desires to evelop water power for electrical purposes, it shall give the Board the rst option to undertake the work.

Clause 72.—Self-explanatory.

Clause 73.—Ensures that the Board shall make proper annual report to e Provincial Government, which reports shall be published, and that the oard shall have power to obtain necessary information for the compilaon of statistics from all persons supplying electricity.

Clause 74.—Provides that all questions arising under the Bill shall, in efault of agreement, be settled by arbitration. This is essential in view f the technical nature of most of the questions which may arise.

Clause 75.
Clause 76. } Self-explanatory.
Clause 77.

Clause 78.—Exempts a Board from liability to pay Central Government axes. The Board is not, under the Bill, exempted from payment of Proincial Government and local taxes (this being a purely Provincial ubject), but Provincial Governments themselves can legislate such exempon if they so desire.

Clause 79.
Clause 80. } Self-explanatory.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

This Schedule sets out the trading procedure upon which the Board may in the absence of agreement to the contrary) insist as between itself and the owner of a controlled station—vide Clauses 33 and 35. The provisic are mainly of a technical nature, but the following points are particula notable:

PART I.

Paragraph 1(1).—Details the directions which a Board may give to t owner of a station for effecting control of generation. Provides also tl the owner of a controlled station shall supply to the Board all the elect city generated at the station. The Board is under obligation to sup back to the owner the whole of his own requirements of electricity un paragraph 2.

Paragraph 1(2).—Provides that, if a Board wishes to do so, it may self put up the money for any extensions to a controlled station, in li of the licensee doing so himself.

Paragraph 2.—Requires a Board to supply to the licensee, and t licensee to take from the Board, the whole of his requirements of elect city, subject to certain qualifications.

Paragraph 3.—Provides that the owner of a controlled station shall n after the date of control, purchase power from a source other than t Board, except with the approval of the Board, or for a limited period.

Paragraph 4.—Provides that the Board shall pay to the licensee, f the whole of the energy supplied to the Board (vide para. 1), the whole the costs of generation.

Paragraph 8.

PART II.

These are technical-financial provisions laying down the basis up which the price shall be fairly determined.

PART III.

Permanent closing down of a controlled station.

This Part provides that where the Board considers that a controlled statio has ceased to be an economic unit it may be permanently closed down. Th Part also prescribes the obligations of the Board to continue to supply a his requirements of electricity to the owner of the station which has bee closed down, at a price not greater than that at which he himself could hav generated, with the same plant, had his station not been closed down. Al prescribes that the owner of the station shall have the option to sell th station to the Board at a fair price, or to dispose of it himself.

PART IV.

Purchase by the Board of a controlled station not to be closed down.

This Part gives the Board an option to purchase a controlled station when its own interest in the user thereof has exceeded the licensee's user. Provides also for a fair price to be paid for the purchase and lays upon the Board an obligation to supply all the owner's requirements of electricity at a price not greater than that at which the station could have generated had it not been purchased by the Board.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

Supply by a Board to licensees owning stations other than controlled stations.

This Schedule sets out the price at which (unless otherwise agreed) the Board may give a part supply of electricity to the owner of a station which has not been controlled. See Clause 34.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

Closing down of generating stations other than controlled stations.

Provisions here are generally similar to the provisions contained in Part III of the First Schedule, but for technical reasons are not identical in points of detail. See Clause 35.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

Price to be paid for generating stations and main transmission lines purchased by the Board.

This Schedule lays down that the Board shall pay fair price based upon the original cost of the assets, less depreciation determined in accordance with a prescribed scale. The Schedule also allows such a premium on account of compulsory purchase as the owner would have been entitled to had the assets been purchased under the terms of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910. See Clause 36 and First and Third Schedules.

FIFTH SCHEDULE.

Charges for use by a Board of transmission lines and main transmission lines.

This Schedule contains technical-financial provisions to ensure that the Board pays a fair hire charge for the use of transmission lines. The Board may agree to alternative terms. See Clause 40.

Financial provisions to be incorporated in licenses.

This Schedule lays down the methods which a licensee (other than a local authority) shall adopt in respect of finance. This question is closely bound up with that of price control by the Board -See Clause 56. The Schedule is designed to secure that a licensee shall not be permitted to earn more than is necessary to provide him with a reasonable return and enable him to raise funds in the market necessary for the proper continuity of his public duties.

SEVENTH SCHEDULE.

This Schedule and the Table appended prescribe the methods of determining the amount of annual depreciation to be

(i) set aside by the Board in respect of its own assets,

(ii) used in the computation of hire charges for transmission lines,

(iii) used in the computation of prices for the supply of energy to and by the Board in respect of licensees owning controlled stations or whose stations have been shut down under the Statute. See Clause 67 and the Fifth and Eighth Schedules.

The Table to the Seventh Schedule is also applicable (but not the rest of the Schedule) in connection with

(a) price control—See Clause 56 and the Sixth Schedule,

(b) purchase of assets by the Board under the Bill. See the Fourth Schedule.

EIGHTH SCHEDULE.

Determination of the cost of production of electricity at generating stations

This Schedule is required in connection with the First and the Third Schedules, in respect of the computation of the price of electricity at controlled stations and stations which are closed down under the Statute.

NINTH SCHEDULE.

Allocation of costs of production at generating stations.

This is required in connection with the computation of the price of electricity at controlled stations under the First Schedule only.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Credit facilities for the settlement of refugees in business and industry cannot adequately be granted by commercial Banks and other financing agencies nor can they appropriately be provided by a commercial organization like the proposed Industrial Finance Corporation. It is also impracticable for the State to give such accommo- dation direct as in the case of agriculturists, small shop-keepers, artisans and persons engaged in professions. This Bill therefore seeks to estab- lish for this purpose a Rehabilitation Finance Administration which will be financed and con- trolled by the Central Government but will work as a semi-autonomous body in close collaboration with the Central and Provincial Governments and Banks. Provision has also been made which will facilitate the granting of such financial assistance by normal banking channels.

NEW DELHI;

Dated 23rd January, 1948.

NOTES ON CLAUSES

Clause 1 (2).—Though for constitutional reasons the scope of the legislation is confined to the Provinces of India, the Administration is not prohibited from granting financial accommoda- tion to refugees settling down in States (vide definition of "Displaced person"). In exercise of the powers given to the Central Government to issue directions under clause 17, the Administra- tion will be directed to grant such accommoda- tion in States which agree to give the Administra- tion facilities regarding recovery similar to those provided for in the Bill. Specific provision in this respect is not required in the Bill.

Clause 2(d).- The scope of the Administration is confined to financing refugees intending to settle in business and indusry, since agriculturists, small shop-keepers, artisans and persons engaged in professions have to be dealt with on personal basis and are therefore best left to Provincial Governments for direct assistance.

Clause 4.—The constitution is designed to ensure close Government control as well as colla- boration of bankers, businessmen and indus- trialists.

Clause 5.—The Advisory Board is meant to guide the Administration and it is proposed to give representation on it to Provinces, States, Reserve Bank and other banks, Chambers of Commerce and Industry, displaced persons and other interests.

Clauses 10 and 11.—The Administration will give direct loans as well as rediscount bills and guarantee loans given by banks in order to facilitate financing by banks. The total liability of the Administration is limited to Rs. 10 crores and power is given to Government to advance money to the Administration up to this limit. Government will advance the money as and when required. Interest at Government's long term borrowing rate is charged to the Administration so that it may work as a separate entity.

Clause 12(i).—In order to avoid overlapping, it is intended that the minimum limit for loans advanced by the Administration should correspond to the maximum amount advanced direct by the Provincial Governments. A maximum limit, say, of Rs. one lakh, above which the sanction of the Central Government would be required, will also be prescribed. As these limits will have to be varied in the light of experience, they are left to be prescribed by Government from time to time.

(ii) The Administration is given power to call for reports on loan applications from various sources. Where a Provincial Government has set up an organization for refugee rehabilitation, the Administration will naturally have recourse to such organization.

(iii) The maximum rate of interest to borrowers is fixed at 6 per cent. in order to ensure that borrowers get accommodation at reasonable rates and at the same time the Administration is enabled to cover its expenses.

(vi) and (vii) To ensure safety of the loan a statutory first charge on the assets created from the loan has been provided, in addition to any other security.

Clause 13.—The Administration is empowered to recall loans under certain circumstances in order to ensure timely action to prevent losses.

Clause 14.—Power to recover loans as arrears of land revenue is given to ensure speedy recovery.

Clause 15.—These powers are designed to enable the Administration to exercise proper control and supervision over the borrowers.

Clause 17.—The Central Government is given power to issue general or special directions to the Administration in order to ensure proper control by Government.

Clauses 19 and 20.—As the entire fund will be supplied by Government, Government alone is empowered to wind-up the Administration and in that event the undistributed assets are vested in the Government. In view of this arrangement the Administration is also exempted from payment of income-tax.

The remaining clauses do not need elucidation.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 10th February, 1948:—

A. BILL NO. 4 OF 1948.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to amend the Taxation on Income (Investigation Commission) Act, 1947, as the provisions of the existing Act are far from adequate to enable the Investigation Commission to function effectively. The amendments proposed in the Bill embody the minimum powers which the Commission must possess if its labours are to bear fruit. Opportunity has also been taken to define and clarify the powers of the Commission so that purely technical objections may not be raised with a view to obstruct or defeat the work of the Commission. The principal provisions of the Bill are explained in the notes on clauses below.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 11th ruary, 1948:—

A. BILL NO. 7 OF 1948

Bill further to amend the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend certain visions of the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 9 (XIX of 1929);

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) This Act be called the Child Marriage Restraint endment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. Amendment of section 2, Act XIX of 1929.—section 2 of the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 9 (XIX of 1929) (hereinafter referred to as the Act), in clause (a),—

(i) for the word "eighteen" the word "twenty" ll be substituted;

(ii) for the word "fourteen", the word "fifteen" ll be substituted;

(iii) the following shall be added at the end, nely:—

"and in case the marrying male is over 45 years ge, under eighteen years of age".

3. Amendment of section 4, Act XIX of 1929.—In section 4 of the said Act, the following shall be added at the end, namely:—

"In case the male who contracts child marriage is over 45 years of age he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to three months and shall also be liable to fine which may extend to one thousand rupees."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Bill is designed to raise the marriageable age of boys and girls in particular.

The age of fourteen in the case of girls was adopted in the Sarda Act as a compromise between the viewpoints of the orthodox who wanted to fix it at 12 and the progressives who wanted to fix it at 16 as a change to the latter age from the conditions then existing was considered to be too abrupt.

Now the marriageable age has in general increased in the country and in many communities the girls are married beyond the age of fifteen years. It cannot be overemphasised that the age of fourteen years is certainly not a proper age for marriage. According to medical opinion maternity is not safe before sixteen though the proper age for it is not less than eighteen. The age of Consent Committee unanimously recommended that the present consent age of thirteen in married life be changed to fifteen.

There is at present a Bill before the Legislature to increase the age of consent in married life to fifteen years. The imperative demands of social justice and the compelling strength of public opinion in this matter make it reasonably certain that the contemplated change in regard to the increase of age of consent is likely to be affected in the near future. Our beloved leader Sardar Patel while speaking on the Bill (relating to increase of age of consent) in the Assembly described the demand for increase of age as "long overdue" and I have no doubt that ere long this demand will be duly met.

It is obvious that if the age of consent is increased to fifteen years, the increase of marriageable age from fourteen to fifteen years will be indispensably necessary to prevent crime and unwanted interference in domestic matters. Such increase is also called for in the interests of securing to the girls opportunities for education, physical growth and freedom from responsibilities of early and premature motherhood. There is a widespread desire for this change not only among ladies of advanced views and social reformers but in the country at large.

I consider this increase in the marriageable age of girls enlarging as it does the period of free and joyous girlhood for the young girls of the nation as not only a great boon for them but as a measure calculated to increase the stature of Indian womanhood and a lever of great national advancement and progress. The increase in the age of boys is also salutary and desirable. It shall be conducive to the growth of better health and strength among boys and afford better opportunities for education and strengthen in general the physical and moral backbone of national life.

The Bill further seeks to afford protection to young girls under eighteen against ill-matched marriages, say with males over the age of 45 years usually widowers with children perhaps older than or equally old as these young girls.

Not unoften greedy and indiscreet parents and guardians barter away the future happiness of their daughters and wards for filthy lucre or other alluring prospects by marrying them with elderly people who have one foot in the grave while the girls are, owing to their minority, unable to resist and safeguard their interests. Many cases have come to courts in which the lust of impatient husbands had ruined the physique of the young girls or caused irreparable damage to their health. It is common experience that such marriages are generally attended with very unhappy consequences and spread morbidity, immorality and misery all round.

The relative ages and consequent outlook on life of the couple being so desperate and dissonant the period of married life is short and seldom happy. The young girl in her early teens does not respond alertly to the violent bursting forth passion of the impatient and elderly husband whereas in later life the dotard husband is far too sluggish and incapable to fully reciprocate and satisfy the yearnings and promptings of the youthful and fully-grown woman. In a fairly large number of cases the young wife becomes a widow after enjoying a short span of married life even before she has grown to full womanhood. The condition of widows in communities which prohibit re-marriage is extremely deplorable and there is nothing but unredeemed misery and trouble in store for such long lived widows. In other communities also the fate of the widow is full of great hardships and misfortunes.

Anyhow the normal happy matrimonial felicity and companionship, characteristic of suitable matches, which invest married life with enchantment and mutual devotion and make it worth living are wanting in such marriages which should be discouraged and interdicted. It is really cruel and unjust to mar for good the future well-being of a young girl at a time when she is dependent and unable to defend her own interests, and other considerations apart, the barest justice demands that young girls be protected against social tyranny of such reprehensible type. It is high time that we did not neglect our duties to young girls. I am sure that a stride towards social Swaraj is being taken none too soon.

THAKUR DAS BHARGAVA.

Notes on Clauses.

1. Clause 2 is designed to change the marriageable age of boys from eighteen to twenty and that of girls from fourteen to fifteen and in case of the marriage of elderly persons above the age of 45 from fourteen to eighteen.

2. The addition to section 4 penalises ill-matched marriages between females below eighteen and males above 45.

(d) for grant of copies from such registers and reports; and

(e) for authorising officer-in-charge of such registration to furnish information or to make complaints in case of infraction of such rules and the provisions of this Act to proper authorities."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill seeks to amend the procedure relating to offences under the Child Marriage Restraint Act, 1929, and provide for bonds from persons convicted under the Act. Procedure according to the well-known Jurist Blackstone is not intended to hinder the smooth working of the provisions of law but to accelerate and contribute to the dispensation of justice and the progress of the law towards the realisation of its aims.

2. It has been realised by many that the Sarda Act is barren of results owing to the unnecessary impediments placed designedly by legislature against the possible misuse of its provisions. Experience has proved beyond doubt that these so-called safeguards were unnecessary and should be done away with. The Bill, therefore, seeks to repeal sections 10 and 11 of the Act and makes the offences and cases under the Act cognizable.

The provisions making the offences and cases cognizable are of drastic nature in so far as the police is even at present neither efficient nor free from corruption. But this aspect of the matter is applicable to all cognizable offences and cases. It must be realised that after 18 years during which the Sarda Act has been in operation its provisions are more widely known than before.

Moreover, the malady is too persistent and virulent to be remedied by mild measures. The evil is too great to be tolerated even if its prevention causes uneasiness and annoyance to the public. The Sarda Act has almost been a dead letter in the rural areas and backward communities and marriages of children in arms and in early teens are very frequent resulting in the physical, economic and moral ruin of the nation. Any further dalliance with the evil of prepuberty consummation and early consummation which are eating into the very vitals of the society is simply criminal especially when we have got National Government and no measures however stringent can be deemed to be too drastic to prevent this evil which is so enormous in magnitude.

The new provisions regarding section 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, is calculated to relieve the rigor and harshness of any of the provisions of the Act.

3. The provision of bonds will at once serve as a preventive check upon commission of crime of marital misbehaviour and as a serious deterrent for offences under the Child Marriage Restraint Act. These provisions were recommended by the Age of Consent Committee and proceed on the lines of the preventive sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

It is common experience that it is impossible to prevent the commission of the crime of marital misbehaviour and to punish the offenders if the husband and the child-wife are allowed to cohabit with each other. It is as idle to expect that fire will not burn or air would not dry as to expect that crime will not be committed if the husband and the child-wife are allowed to be closetted in the bed chamber. Ascetism cannot be enforced by legislation and the creation of conditions in which crime cannot be committed is the only solution of the difficult problem.

Moreover an attempt to punish the offenders and abettors of the crime of marital misbehaviour will be much more irksome and annoying to the public than the attempt to prevent the crime from being committed through the instrumentality of the provision of bonds.

The utility and desirability of the provisions relating to bonds is therefore quite apparent. It is possible there might have been two opinions about the feasibility of these provisions eighteen years ago. At present the need and efficacy of such provisions is undoubted and obvious.

4. The Age of Consent Committee further recommended that marriage registers should be regularly kept and certificates of marriages should be issued. It is clear that the salient points in a prosecution under the Child's Marriage Restraint Act are factum of marriage and ages of the couple. The register of marriage shall dispense with proof of factum of marriage. The question of age is rather difficult to tackle yet the age given in the particulars of marriage register shall furnish the Courts with some proof of age which in some cases may be enough to bring home the charge to the offenders. Moreover an automatic system of bringing the offenders to book may be evolved by the rules which may require the Registrar of Marriages to furnish information to proper authorities or even to bring complaints in proper cases.

(g) prohibit the subscriber from leaving the accumulation to any person outside the family, and

(h) provide for the administration and management of the fund by the employer.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

1 The Provident Funds Act, 1925 (Act XIX of 1925), is not applicable to workers employed in factories or labourers in industrial establishments such as house-buildings, quarrying, docks and other such establishments. Under section 58B (1) of the Income Tax Act, 1922, the Commissioner of Income-tax may accord recognition to any provident fund which in his opinion, satisfies the condition prescribed in section 58C and the rules made thereunder It will be evident that under section 58B (1) the first move to obtain recognition of provident fund, for employees in factories and in other industrial establishments, should be made by the employer. It is very rare that an employer would volunteer to establish a Contributory Provident Fund for his employees. The main object of this Bill is to make it compulsory for every employer of workers and labourers in the industrial concerns to establish provident fund for the betterment of such employees and their families. From the meagre pay they get, the employees are not in a position to lay by anything for themselves or their family for hay day Establishment of provident fund will teach them frugality and the advantages of such a system will not meet with any objection or disapproval on their part as they would realise that the Bill aims at the good of their family and for themselves also.

2. The contribution by the employer will be an impetus for them to join the fund. The interests of the employers and the employees are generally found to be at variance. In order to establish mutual trust and confidence and to cement the differences between the employers and the employees, a measure like the one in this Bill would go a great way to promote mutual healthy relations between the capitalists and labourers This Bill seeks to promote growth of spirit of confidence, and with co-ordination of employees, the employers would be able to yield better results. By creating such fund, the employers will attract to themselves a class of labourers which will be contented and in view of the provisions [of the] Bill, they would prefer to remain attached [to a] particular employer and there will be [no] occasions of strike in work.

Provided that the aggregate amount of fees payable to any Trustee under this section in respect of meetings held during any month shall not exceed Rs. 200 or such sum as may be fixed by any bye-law from time to time made in this behalf".

8. Substitution of new section for section 12, Bengal Act III of 1890.—For section 12 of the said Act the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

"12. Appointment and salary of Chief Executive Officer.—The Trustees shall appoint a Chief Executive Officer as the head of Executive Administration whose salary shall not exceed Rs. 2,000 per mensem and who shall be the servant of the Trustees.

The Trustees shall at their first meeting, delegate such powers as they deem fit to the Chief Executive Officer."

9. Amendment of section 40, Bengal Act III of 1890.—After sub-section (3) of section 40 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"(4) All meetings of the Board shall be open to the Press except such meetings and such subjects which the Chairman feels should be held in camera and shall not be open to the Press:

Provided that the Committee meetings shall be held in camera."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The amendment of Calcutta Port Act is overdue and in view of the Dominion of India being attained, it becomes more necessary to amend the Act. The main object of this Bill is to amend its constitution, increase the number of elected Trustees and the Chairman to be elected by the Trustees instead of a salaried Chairman to be nominated by the Government. To replace the salaried Chairman, provision has been made in the Bill to appoint a Chief Executive Officer whose salary shall be fixed by the Trustees.

At present the meetings of the Trustees are being held in camera, the last section provides that all meetings should be open to the Press and the Committee meeting should be held in camera.

It is also proposed that the term of the Trustees shall be three instead of two years at present.

ATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ection 86F was enacted to ensure honesty of lings on the part of a company's director and to ure the interests of the company. However, it been found that the provision is not enough to ieve this object. Instances have occurred ere a director who infringed this provision naged to get elected director of the same company. The present section 86F which provides t the office of such a director shall be vacated s not act as a strong deterrent against any ingement of section 86F. The object of the sent amendment is to provide such a deterrent rendering him ineligible for election as a director he company for a number of years and imposing eavy fine on him.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 3rd December, 1947:—

L. A. BILL No. 64 OF 1947.

A Bill to provide for prevention of forcible and fraudulent conversion of Hindu women.

WHEREAS it has become necessary and expedient to prevent forcible and fraudulent conversion of Hindu women and to make provision for the restoration to their original legal status, of Hindu women who have been so converted in the past;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Prevention of Forcible and Fraudulent Conversion of Hindu Women Act, 191 .

(2) It applies to the whole of the Dominion of India.

Definition.

2. In this Act "Hindu" means any person who professes the Hindu religion and includes a Sikh, Buddhist, or a Jain.

Invalidation of conversions of Hindu Women by force, fraud, etc., and safeguarding of their rights and status.

3. All conversions of Hindu women to Islam brought about by force, fraud or undue influence are hereby declared invalid in law and notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or any custom or usage to the contrary all such Hindu women shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges and to the same status which they enjoyed before conversion, as if no such conversion had taken place.

Non-recognition of conversions of Hindu Women below the age of eighteen.

4. No conversion of any Hindu woman who has not completed the age of eighteen years shall be valid nor shall it be recognised by any law for the time being in force for any purpose whatsoever.

Condition precedent for valid conversion of a Hindu Woman completing the age of eighteen.

5. No conversion of any Hindu woman who has completed the age of eighteen years shall be valid or recognised by any law for the time being in force for any purpose whatsoever unless such woman had three months before the date of her conversion obtained a certificate as hereinafter provided for.

Procedure for obtaining certificate for conversion.

6. (1) A Hindu woman who has completed the age of eighteen years and desires to be converted to another religion shall apply in person to the Presidency Magistrate or the Magistrate of the first class in whose jurisdiction she ordinarily resides for a certificate that she desires conversion to another religion of her own free will.

(2) On receipt of any such application as is mentioned in sub-section (1) the Magistrate shall examine the applicant on oath and if on such examination he finds that the applicant is not desirous of conversion of her own free will he shall summarily reject the application.

(3) If after any such examination of the applicant as is mentioned in sub-section (2) the Magistrate does not summarily reject the application he shall issue notice or notices to the person or persons hereinafter mentioned in section 7 calling upon them to appear and show cause on the day fixed in the notice why the certificate asked for by the applicant should not be granted to her.

Issue of notices.

7. If the applicant is—

(a) an unmarried woman, notice or notices shall be issued to her parent or parents who might be living and in case none of her parents are living to her nearest relative;

(b) a married woman, whose husband is living, notice shall be issued to her husband;

(c) a widow, notices shall be issued both to her nearest relative in her husband's family and to her nearest relative in her father's family.

(1) On the day mentioned in the said notice or on any other day which the Magistrate may fix, the Magistrate shall hear the applicant and the person or persons to whom notices had been issued under section 7 if present, on the question whether the applicant desires conversion to another religion of her own free will.

(2) The Magistrate may, if he thinks fit at any time before issuing his certificate, direct that with a view to remove all outward influence on the applicant, she shall be kept in any independent place (not being in charge of a person who professes a religion to which she wishes to be converted) to be approved by the applicant and for a period not exceeding in all fifteen days. The Magistrate shall at the expiration of the said period again examine the said applicant.

(3) If after the inquiry as is mentioned in the foregoing clauses, the Magistrate is satisfied that the applicant desires conversion of her own free will, he shall issue a certificate to her certifying that in his opinion the applicant desires conversion of her own free will.

Punishment for conversions in contravention of the Act.

9. Any person who converts a Hindu woman who has not completed the age of eighteen years, or any other Hindu woman who has not obtained a certificate as mentioned in section 5, any person who aids or abets any such conversion, and any person not being a Hindu, who keeps in his house or residence any such Hindu woman, having reason to believe that she has been so converted, shall be punished with rigorous imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years and shall also be liable to fine not exceeding Rs. 2,000.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Hindu women have been forcibly converted to Islam in recent times on a very large scale in various parts of the country. It has been condemned by all decent people and our leaders agree that these conversions are not conversions that could be recognised. However as Hindu Law stands at present it is desirable and necessary to invalidate all these conversions by Law and to restore such women to their former legal status and rights and privileges. Young girls belonging to Hindu community still continue to be the victims of certain unscrupulous and undesirable non-Hindu elements in the country and it is therefore provided that no Hindu girl who has not completed the age of 18 years could be legally converted. In the case of other women also there are numerous cases of conversions being brought about by force, fraud or undue influence. Provision is therefore made in the Bill for prevention of such conversions in future. Tampering with women of Hindu community in this way leads to communal hatred of the worst type. The provisions are therefore necessary for maintenance of inter-communal peace and harmony.

A. BILL No. 29 OF 1948.

HEREAS it is expedient to amend the Control hipping Act, 1947 (XXVI of 1947), for the ose hereinafter appearing; t hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.—This Act may be called the trol of Shipping (Amendment) Act, 1948.

Substitution of "India" for "British India" ct XXVI of 1947.—In the Control of Shipping 1947 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the words "British India", wherever they r, the word "India" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 1, Act XXVI of 1947. ub-section (3) of section 1 of the said Act, he figures "1948" the figures "1949" shall be tituted

Amendment of section 2, Act XXVI of 1947. section 2 of the said Act, clauses (a), (b), (c), and (e) shall be re-lettered (b), (c), (d), (e) and espectively, and before clause (b), as so re-ted, the following clause shall be inserted, ly:—

) No ship shall engage in the coasting trade of a except under a valid licence granted by a ping Authority under this section.

7. Amendment of section 7, Act XXVI of 1947. In clause (c) of section 7, the following words shall be added at the end, namely:—

"or has carried during any specified period".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The transport situation is unlikely to improve adequately at an early date. The need, on the contrary, for ensuring priority of movement by sea for essential cargoes like coal, foodstuffs, etc., is likely to continue. It is essential, therefore, that Government should continue to retain the powers which the Control of Shipping Act, 1947, has conferred on it. It is, therefore, proposed to extend the period of validity of the Act by an additional year.

2. In the light of the experience of the limited system of licensing during recent years it is also felt that Government should be vested with power to license, in so far as coastal trade is concerned, all shipping whether borne on the Indian Register or not, so as to secure uniformity of control over all the tonnage in that trade and also, if necessary, for preventing any undesirable incursion of foreign shipping into that trade. An amendment to this effect is accordingly proposed.

(2) Nothing in this section shall render liable to or accountable for duty a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration without notice.

(3) Every person accountable for estate duty under the provisions of this section shall, within six months of the death of the deceased or such later time as the Board may allow, deliver to the Board and verify to the best of his knowledge and belief, an account of all the property in respect of which estate duty is payable.

(4) Where the person accountable knows of any property which he has not included in his account because he does not know its amount or value, he may state that such property exists, but he does not know the amount or value thereof and that he undertakes, as soon as the amount and value are ascertained to bring a supplementary account thereof and to pay both the duty for which he may be liable in respect of such property and any further duty payable by reason thereof for which he may be liable in respect of the property mentioned in the original account.

(5) Where two or more persons are accountable, either in the same capacity or in different capacities, for estate duty in respect of the same property, their liability is concurrent.

49. Every person believed to be in possession to deliver statement of particulars of property as required by Board.—Every person accountable for estate duty, every company to which, in the opinion of the Board, a transfer of property has been made by the deceased as mentioned in section 16, every person who is or was at any time an officer or auditor of such a company, and every person whom the Board believes to have taken possession of or administered any part of the estate in respect of which duty is leviable on the death of the deceased, or of the income of any part of such estate shall, if required by the Board, deliver to the Board and verify, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a statement of such particulars together with such evidence as the Board may require relating to any property which it has reason to believe to form part of an estate in respect of which estate duty is leviable on the death of the deceased.

50. Penalty for wilful default.—A person who wilfully fails to comply with any of the provisions of section 48 or 49 shall be liable to pay a penalty of Rs. 1,000 or a sum equal to double the amount of the estate duty, if any, remaining unpaid for which he is accountable, according as the Board may elect:

Provided that the Board shall have power to reduce the penalty in any particular case.

51. Executor to specify all chargeable property with affidavit of valuation.—In all cases in which a grant of representation is applied for within six months of the death of the deceased—

(a) the executor of the deceased shall, to the best of his knowledge and belief, specify in an appropriate account annexed to the affidavit of valuation filed in Court under section 191 of the Court-fees Act, 1870 (VII of 1870), all the property in respect of which estate duty is payable upon the death of the deceased and shall deliver a copy of the affidavit with the account to the Board, and

(b) no order entitling the applicant to the grant of representation shall be made upon his application until he has delivered the account prescribed in sub-section (1) and has produced a certificate from the Board under section 53 or 56 that the estate duty payable in respect of the property included in the account has been or will be paid, or that none is due, as the case may be.

52. Estate duty when due and how and when to be collected.—Estate duty shall be due from the date of the death of the deceased and shall be collected upon the account delivered under sub-section (4) of section 48 or clause (a) of section 51 or prepared under sub-section (3) of section 54, and amended or modified where necessary as provided in sub-section (1) or sub-section (5) of section 54; and interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum shall be paid on the duty from the date of the death up to the date of the delivery of the account or the expiration of six months after the death, whichever happens first.

53. Duty to be paid or security fo[r] furnished for delivery account and certifi[cate] granted thereupon.—Upon delivery of t[he account] under sub-section (4) of section 48 or cla[use (a) of] section 51, the person delivering it shall [pay to the] Board, or furnish security to the sati[sfaction of] the Board for the payment of, the esta[te duty, if] any, payable in respect of the property [included] in the account, and the Board shall [thereupon] grant him a certificate that such duty h[as been or] will be paid, or that none is due, as th[e case may] be.

54. Board's powers in respect of val[uation].—(1) If the Board is of opinion that the p[erson deli]vering the account has under-estimated [the value] of the property in respect of which esta[te duty is] payable (whether by placing too low a [value on] the property included in the account or [by omitt]ing to include therein property that ough[t to have] been included), the Board may inquir[e into the] matter in such manner and by such me[ans as it] thinks fit and, if still of opinion that [the value] of the property has been under-estim[ated, may] require him to amend the valuation.

(2) If such person does not amend t[he valua]tion to the satisfaction of the Board, t[he Board] may move the High Court to hold an in[quiry into] the true value of the property:

Provided that no such motion shall [be made] after the expiration of one year from th[e date of] delivery of the account under sub-se[ction (4) of] section 48 or clause (a) of section 5[1].

(3) In any case where no account ha[s been deli]vered as required by sub-section (4) of s[ection 48] or clause (a) of section 51, the Board m[ay cause] an account of the property passing upon [the death] of the deceased to be prepared in suc[h manner] and by such means as it thinks fit and [may call] upon any person who in its opinion is a[ccountable] for the payment of the estate duty in r[espect of] the property to accept such account.

(4) If such person disputes his accounta[bility or] the correctness of the account, the Board [may move] the High Court to hold an inquiry into th[e matter].

(5) The High Court when moved un[der sub-]section (2) or sub-section (4) shall hold [or cause] to be held an inquiry accordingly and [shall re]cord a finding on the matters in is[sue, and the] Board shall be deemed to be a party [to the] inquiry.

(6) Any person authorized by the Hi[gh Court] to hold the inquiry may take such ev[idence on] oath as he considers necessary and shal[l submit] to the Court a report of the result of th[e inquiry] together with the evidence taken by him[; and the] report and the evidence so taken shall b[e evidence] in the proceeding.

(7) The Central Government shall [within] twelve months after the commencement [of this] Act and may thereafter from time to time [appoint] a sufficient number of qualified persons t[o act as] valuers for the purpose of this Act and [prescribe] a scale of charges for the remuneration [of such] persons and the High Court may refer a[ny ques]tion of disputed value under this section [to the] arbitration of any person so appointed, [and the] costs of any such arbitration shall be pa[rt of the] costs in the case.

(8) An appeal shall lie to the Fede[ral Court] from any judgment of the High Court d[elivered] on a motion made under this section in [any case] which the High Court certifies to be a fit [one for] appeal to the Federal Court.

Explanation.—"High Court" in this [section] means the High Court to which, or to [a court] subordinate to which, an application for [a grant] of representation has been made, or where [no such] application has been made, the High Court [which] would have jurisdiction to entertain a[n such] application.

55. Grant of representation not to be delayed Board's motion.—Where any grant for repre-tation has been applied for, it shall not be ave by reason of any motion made by the Board under section 54.

56. Certificate of payment of duty, and penalty non-payment.—(1) Where the valuation is mended by the person accountable upon the Board's requisition under sub-section (1) of sec-tion 54 or is enhanced by the High Court upon Board's motion under sub-section (2) of sec-tion 54, and in any case where the original valua-tion has been discovered to be too low, such person shall within one month of the amendment or en-hancement or discovery pay the deficit duty which is payable in respect of the property upon the amended or enhanced or full valuation and the Board shall thereupon grant him a certificate accordingly.

(2) Where the valuation is reduced by the High Court on the Board's motion under sub-section (2) of section 54, the Board shall refund to the person accountable any excess duty paid by him and shall grant to him a certificate that the full duty payable in respect of the property has been paid.

(3) In any case where no account has been deli-vered as required by sub-section (4) of section 48 or clause (a) of section 51, the person who is called upon to accept the account prepared by the Board under sub-section (3) of section 54 shall, within one month of his acceptance or, as the case may be, of the final disposal of the motion made under sub-section (4) of section 54, pay the full duty payable in respect of the property and the Board shall thereupon grant him a certificate accordingly.

(4) If the person accountable does not pay the amount of duty due from him under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) within the period specified therein he shall be liable to a penalty of Rs. 1,000 or a sum equal to five times the amount due according as the Board may elect.

57. Where a person accountable for the estate duty in respect of any property passing on a death applies to the Board at any time and deli-vers and verifies a full statement to the best of his knowledge and belief of all property passing on such death and the several persons entitled thereto the Board may determine the estate duty payable in respect of the property and on pay-ment of that duty, the Board shall give him a certificate accordingly.

58. Commutation of duty in respect of interests in expectancy.—The Board in its discretion may, on application by a person entitled to an inter-est in expectancy, commute the estate duty which will or might, but for the commutation, become payable in respect of such interest for a certain sum to be presently paid, and, for determining such sum shall cause a present value to be set on such duty, regard being had to the contin-gencies affecting the liability to and rate and amount of such duty, and interest being reckoned at per cent., and on the receipt of such sum the Board shall give a certificate accordingly.

Assessment in complicated cases.—Where by reason of the number of deaths upon which property has passed or of the complicated nature of the interests of different persons in property which has passed on death, or from any other cause it is difficult to ascertain exactly the amount of estate duty payable in respect of any property or any interest therein or so to ascertain the same without undue expense in proportion to the value of the property or interest, the Board, on the application of any person accountable for the duty and upon his giving to the Board all the in-formation in his power respecting the amount of the property and the several interests therein and the circumstances of the case, may, by way of composition for all or any of the duties payable in respect of the property or interest and the various interests therein or any of them, assess such sum on the value of the property or interest, as having regard to the circumstances appears proper, and may accept payment of the sum so assessed in full payment of all claims for estate duty in respect of such property or interest, and shall give a certificate accordingly.

59. Board may allow postponement of payment on terms.—Where the Board is satisfied that the estate duty leviable in respect of any property cannot, without excessive sacrifice, be raised at once, it may allow payment to be postponed for such period, to such extent, and on payment of such interest not exceeding 4 per cent., or any higher interest yielded by the property, and on such other terms as it may think fit.

60. Board may remit duty and interest outstand-ing after twenty years from death.—If after the ex-piration of twenty years from a death upon which estate duty became leviable any such duty remains unpaid, the Board may, if it thinks fit, on the application of any person accountable or liable for such duty or interested in the property, remit the payment of such duty or any part thereof or any interest thereon.

61. Forms.—All affidavits, accounts, certificates, statements and forms used for the purposes of this Part of this Act shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed by the Board and, if so required by the Board, shall be in duplicate and accounts and statements shall be delivered and verified on oath and by production of books and documents in the manner prescribed by the Board and any person who wilfully fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to the penalty mentioned in section 50.

62. Recovery of duty and penalties.—Any estate duty or deficit duty and any interest or penalty payable under this Act may, on the certi-ficate of the Board, be recovered from the person liable thereto as if it were an arrear of land-revenue by any Collector in any province of India.

PART VIII CHARGE OF ESTATE DUTY ON PROPERTY AND FACILITIES FOR RAISING IT

63. Estate duty a Crown debt and a first charge on property liable thereto.—Estate duty is a Crown debt and, subject to the provisions of sec-tion 18, shall be a first charge on the property in respect of which it is leviable after the debts and incumbrances allowable under Part VI of this Act.

64. Private transfers of property void against claim of estate duty.—From and after the death of the deceased, any private transfer or delivery of any property passing upon the death by any per-son to whom it so passes shall be void against any claim in respect of estate duty enforceable under this Act.

65. Discharge from estate duty in certain cases. —A certificate granted by the Board under section 56 or section 58 shall discharge the property in-cluded therein and the grantee so far as regards that property from any further claim for estate duty, but shall not discharge any person or pro-perty from estate duty in case of fraud or failure to disclose material facts and shall not affect the duty payable in respect of any property after-wards shown to have passed on the death nor any further duty payable by reason thereof in respect of the property included in the certificate:

Provided nevertheless that a certificate purport-ing to be a discharge of the whole estate duty payable in respect of any property included in the certificate shall exonerate a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration without notice from the duty notwithstanding any such fraud or failure.

66. Person accountable to be repaid by trustees and owners in certain cases.—If a person accountable under section 18 pays any part of the estate duty in respect of any property not passing to him, it shall, where occasion requires, be repaid to him by the trustees or owners of the property.

67. Facilities for paying duty or raising amount already paid.—(1) A person authorized or required to pay estate duty in respect of any property shall, for the purposes of paying the duty, or raising the amount of the duty when already paid, have power, whether the property is or is not vested in him, to raise the amount of such duty and any interest and expenses properly paid or incurred by him in respect thereof, by the sale or mortgage of or a terminable charge on that property or any part thereof.

(2) A person having an interest in any property, who pays the estate duty in respect of that property, shall be entitled to the like charge, as if the estate duty in respect of that property had been raised by means of a mortgage to him.

(3) Any money arising from the sale of property comprised in a settlement or held upon trust to lay out upon the trusts of a settlement may be expended in paying any estate duty in respect of property comprised in the settlement and held upon the same trusts.

PART IX.—MISCELLANEOUS.

68. Jurisdiction of Courts barred save as expressly provided.—Save as provided in this Act nothing done or in good faith purporting to be done by the Board under this Act shall be called in question in any Court.

69. Discharge of functions of Board by officers and authorities empowered by the Central Government.—(1) The Central Government may by notification in the official Gazette empower any officer or authority to discharge the functions of the Board under this Act or the rules made under this Act in respect of any specified matter.

(2) Where under this Act or the rules made under this Act the opinion, belief or state of mind of the Board is relevant in any matter, the opinion, belief, or state of mind of the officer or authority empowerd in respect of such matter under sub-section (1) shall be deemed to be that of the Board.

70. Rule-making powers of the Board.—Subject to the condition of previous publication, the Board may make rules not inconsistent with this Act, prescribing all matters which by this Act are required or permitted to be prescribed, or which are necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out the purposes of or giving effect to this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to impose an estate duty on non-agricultural property to assist the Provinces to finance their development schemes by fortifying permanently their revenues and enabling them to improve inter alia the existing social services. In spite of war-time taxation, enormous private fortunes have been made during the war, aggravating the great inequality which already existed. Apart from providing funds for the expansion of social services, there is manifest justification for the measure. It will be a step in the process of reducing the great disparities of wealth, which is a prominent feature of Indian economy, and will set the country moving towards a more equitable distribution of the national income.

2. Death duties in one form or another constitute an important element in the scheme of taxation of most progressive countries. In 1924-25, the Taxation Enquiry Committee considere[d the] question of introducing them in this country [and] recommended the imposition of an estate du[ty by] Central legislation. Before, however, the r[ecom]mendation could be acted upon, the entire [Indian] constitution came under review, beginning [with] the appointment of the Statutory Commissio[n in] 1928 and ending with the passing of the Go[vern]ment of India Act, 1935. Under this Act, l[egis]lation on duties of succession in respect of [pro]perty other than agricultural land falls i[n the] Federal list and similar legislation in respe[ct of] agricultural land in the Provincial list. [There] is, however, a distinction between a succe[ssion] duty strictly so-called and an estate duty. [The] estate duty is levied because property has p[assed] by death and the duty is graduated with r[efer]ence to the total amount of property so pas[sing.] The succession duty, on the other hand, look[s not] to the size of the estate left by the deceased, [but] to the size of the separate shares received by [the] beneficiaries and, as the windfall element incr[eases] with the distance of relationship to the dece[ased,] it is often graduated further on that princ[iple.] The question, therefore, arose whether an e[state] duty of the kind levied in the United King[dom] and recommended for adoption in India by [the] Taxation Enquiry Committee was within the [com]petence of the Legislature, Central or Provin[cial,] under the constitution embodied in the Gov[ern]ment of India Act, 1935. A reference was [made] to the Federal Court who, by a majority, exp[ress]ed the opinion that such a duty did not fall [with]in any of the Legislative lists. The statute [was] amended to confer power on the Central Le[gis]lature to levy an estate duty in respect of pro[perty] other than agricultural land, the proceeds b[eing] distributable among the Provinces accordin[g to] the principles to be formulated by a Central [Act.] The Provincial Legislatures can levy a sim[ilar] duty in respect of agricultural land. This [posi]tion has been maintained in the Governmen[t of] India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India [Pro]visional (Constitution) Order, 1947. A Bil[l to] levy an estate duty was introduced in 1946 in [the] Central Legislature but owing to the recent [con]stitutional changes it lapsed.

3. The draft Bill largely follows the line[s of] the Estate Duty Acts of the United Kingdom [so] far as the charging clauses are concerned. [The] estate duty will be charged according to the p[rin]cipal value of all property which passes on [the] death of any person, whether by the disposi[tion] of the deceased or by a settlement made by ot[hers.] The governing principle is that the title of [the] State to a share in the accumulated property [of] the deceased is an anterior title to that of [any] interest to be taken by those who are to shar[e.]

So far as the machinery of assessment is [con]cerned, the Bill is an adaption of the provis[ions] of the Court-fees Act, 1870, dealing with pro[bate] duties levied in the shape of court-fees.

4. There are two matters which have been [left] out of the present Bill, namely, the distribu[tion] of the proceeds of the proposed duty amongst [the] Provinces and the rates of duty to be lev[ied.] The intention is to distribute the proceeds of [the] duty (after deduction of the cost of collect[ion)] amongst the Provinces. The exact basis of dis[tri]bution is a question which will have to be co[nsi]dered in consultation with the Provinces conc[ern]ed. When a decision is reached, the result [will] be embodied in a separate Central Act. The r[ates] at which the duty is to be levied will also be f[ixed] from time to time by separate legislation. [It is] not possible to estimate, even approximately, [the] probable yield of the new duty, as much will [de]pend upon the rates in force for the time being.

Illustrations.—1. Property comprised in a revocable gift is clearly property of which the donor is competent to dispose. Hence estate duty is payable on the property on the donor's death, although the gift may not have been actually revoked. Similarly, property comprised in a settlement where the settlor reserves an unqualified power to revoke the trusts and declare new ones is chargeable to duty

2. A devises a house to his son, subject to a power for A's wife by deed or will to charge on it a sum of Rs 1 lakh On the wife's death, estate duty is leviable in respect of this sum as property of which she was competent to dispose and this is so whether she exercised the power or not See section 3(4).

3. Under section 109 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925, a gift by will to the testator's child is preserved from lapsing where the beneficiary pre-deceases the testator provided that the beneficiary leaves issue living at the testator's death. The gift takes effect as if the beneficiary had died immediately after the testator and the property devolves under the beneficiary's will or intestacy It is therefore property of which the beneficiary was competent to dispose and is chargeable with estate duty in connection with his death as well as in connection with the death of the testator, subject to any allowance for quick succession [re Scott (1901) I K B 228].

Clause 6. From section 2(1) (b), Finance Act, 1894.

Illustrations - 1 A, a Hindu widow, having a Hindu woman's estate in house property, makes a gift of the property to B The result is that B's interest ceases on A's death and a right to the entire property accrues to the reversioners. Therefore estate duty is payable on the entire property on A's death.

2. A and B are undivided members of a Hindu joint family governed by the Mitakshara school of law. Neither A nor B can dispose of his undivided interest in the joint family property by gift or will under the existing Hindu law. If therefore A dies undivided, it cannot be said that his interest is "property of which the deceased was at the time of his death competent to dispose" The case thus falls outside section 5, but clearly fall within the present section, because the deceased's interest in the joint family property ceases upon his death In this case the benefit which accrues to B, assuming that A has left no widow or children, extends to the whole of A's interest and the whole of it is chargeable to duty if it is not agricultural land.

3 A by will gives an annuity of Rs. 500 to B charged on house property worth Rs. 1,200 per annum and the house property itself, subject to the aforesaid charge, to C. On B's death an annuity ceases and estate duty is therefore chargeable on the value of the benefit arising by the cesser Thus if the house property is worth Rs. 24,000 at B's death the value of the benefit would be 500/1200 × 24,000= Rs. 10,000. See section 39.

4. A is entitled to an annuity of Rs. 800 charged on certain house property and on A's death an annuity of Rs. 200 per annum becomes charged on the property in favour of B. In this case, upon A's death the owner of the property is chargeable to estate duty in respect of the cesser of the whole of A's annuity of Rs. 800 and not merely the cesser of Rs. 600 per annum which is the difference between the two annuities.

5. A fund is held on trust during the life of A to pay an annuity of Rs. 1,000 to B and the remaining income of Rs. 2,000 per annum to A and on A's death the whole income of Rs. 3,000 per annum is to go to B. In this case upon the death of A no estate duty is payable in respect of the cesser of B's annuity of Rs. 1,000. Under the present sub-section we have to see what was the interest of the deceased which ceased on his death and the extent of the benefit arising from the cesser of that interest. It is clear that in the case put A's interest was limited to Rs. 2,000 per annum.

Clause 7.—From section 2(1) (c), Finance Act, 1894. These gifts are dealt with in section 191 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925.

Clause 8.—From section 2(1) (c), Finance Act, 1894, and section 59, Finance Act, 1910.

Clause 9.—From section 2(1) (c), Finance Act, 1894, and section 59, Finance Act, 1910.

The right to possess under the terms of a gift is not possession; and it is payment, and not the obligation to pay, which confers enjoyment.

If the non-exclusion of or benefit to the donor extends to or overrides the whole subject matter of the gift, the whole is chargeable with estate duty. But where the gift comprises separate parcels of property and an interest is reserved to the donor out of one of those parcels only, that parcel alone is chargeable with the duty.

The benefit need not be reserved out of the subject matter of the gift, but may be secured only by the donee's personal covenant.

The words "contract or otherwise" must be construed in accordance with the ejusdem generis rule; they connote an enforceable arrangement, though not necessarily between the same persons as are parties to the gift. The arrangement must however be referable in some way to the gift.

Clause 10.—From section 43, Finance Act, 1940.

Illustration.—A, a Hindu widow, having a Hindu woman's estate in house property surrenders her estate to the reversioners two years before her death. The property in such a case cannot be said to pass to the reversioners on her death, since it actually passes to them two years before. Therefore section 4 does not apply. Nor does section 6 apply, because the widow had, in the circumstances, no interest ceasing on her death: it had ceased two years previously. But under sub-section (1) of the present section the property is deemed to pass on her death and becomes chargeable to estate duty.

Clause 11.—From section 2(1) (c), Finance Act, 1894.

Clause 12.—From section 2(1) (c), Finance Act, 1894.

In a true joint tenancy the interest of the joint tenants must be equal and identical in every respect. Any one of them can in his life time acquire full dominion over his share by severing the joint tenancy or he can dispose of it as he thinks fit, in which event the joint tenancy will, so far as his share is concerned, be severed by that disposition. The unsevered share of a deceased joint tenant in the strict sense, although it accrues to the other joint tenants by survivorship, is in consequence property of which he was competent to dispose and liable to estate duty as such under section 5.

But the liability to duty may extend further, for where the deceased, having been absolutely entitled to property, has caused it to be transferred to or vested in himself and any other person jointly, the whole property is deemed to pass on the death of the deceased for the purpose of attracting estate duty. If the deceased provided the property originally, it is sufficient to attracting estate duty in respect of the whole that the beneficial interest in a part shall have passed or accrued on the death. This is the str position under the present section. In however, certain concessions are allowed land. If, for example, any legally ad evidence exists to show that the intention transaction was to make the parties true ants in every respect, and it is shown that vivor, although he provided no part of perty, was nevertheless entitled to and re ceived a severed share of income, estate claimed in connection with the death of son who provided the property only on the which he was beneficially interested unless within three years of the transaction.

Clause 13.—From section 2(1) (c), Finan 1894.

There must be an existing donee. Th of a policy cannot, so long as he rem owner, be regarded as keeping it up for th of a donee to whom he subsequently as The liability to duty is independent of th ence of any obligation upon the insured up the policy or of any arrangement betw and any other person in relation thereto.

Clause 14.—From section 2(1) (d), Finan 1894 and section 28, Finance Act, 1934.

The only gift was a gift of the shar that gift was not the subject of any reser No estate duty would be payable in respect cesser of the salary, because A's interest was as holder of an office.

Sub-clause (4).—There are numerous pro on this subject in the U. K. Finance Act which it has been considered better here t gate to rules. Provisions of this kind wer enacted in the United Kingdom in 1930, bu were found to be ineffective and had to be in 1940. A number of adjustments were found necessary in 1944. These constant a indicate the desirability of making the pro ble so as to meet new methods of evasion; their relegation to rules in the present Bill rules of English law relating to the nature in situs or locality of assets of an intangible are complicated and in some respects doubtful. For example, immovable property situate in the United Kingdom, if it has become subject to a trust for sale under a British trust, is deemed to be personal estate and interest of the successor is deemed to be a chose in action. Again, the property of a deceased partner of a British firm dies ... is regarded as personal and movable even though part of the property belonging to the firm is immovable, and the situation asset is primarily determined by the principal place of business of the firm. Clause 22.—From section 15, Finance Act,

Illustrations.—1 A settles property on trust for B (usually a poor relation or an old servant) for life and then for himself absolutely. No duty is payable on B's death, if he dies before A.

2 A settles property on trust to pay an annuity thereout to himself and, subject thereto, for B for life, with remainder to A Duty is payable on B's death, because it cannot be said that the only benefit retained by A is subject to the life interest.

3 A settles property on B for life with remainder to B's children absolutely and in default, for A absolutely B dies without children. Duty is payable, for the contingent interests of B's possible children were "other interests" created by the disposition

4 B gives property to A, who then settles it on B for life with remainder to himself. Duty is payable on B's death, for B was competent to dispose of the property prior to the settlement.

5 As in Illustration 1, but B dies after A and the property reverts to A's heirs. Duty is payable on B's death, for the property does not revert to the disposer himself

Clause 23 From section 21(c), Finance Act, 1894.

Illustration A by deed dated 1940 settled property on his wife for life, and on her death on himself for life, with remainder to their children. The wife dies after the commencement of this Act, leaving A surviving Estate duty is not payable on her death, though it will be payable on the subsequent death of A The exemption would not have applied if A had become entitled to the corpus on his wife's death

Clause 24 From section 3, Finance Act, 1894.

Illustration On the marriage of A and B, A the husband, partly in consideration of the marriage and partly in consideration of the transfer to him of certain shares belonging to B, settled certain house property upon himself for life and then upon B absolutely Here the consideration is only partly in money or money's worth, namely, so far as it consists of the shares Hence under sub-clause (2), the value of the shares as at the date of the settlement, is to be deducted from the value of the house property, as at A's death in ascertaining the sum in respect of which B is to pay an estate duty

Property bona fide transferred by the deceased for money or money's worth is not chargeable to estate duty Although such a transfer might be made in anticipation of death, the consideration received in respect of it becomes the property of the deceased and as such is liable to duty. To subject to taxation both the property whose sale produces that money or money's worth and that money or money's worth itself would be in substance to impose double taxation on the same property. Hence the exemption in this clause. The exemption is to apply not only when the property is acquired for full consideration in money or money's worth, but also, to a proportionate extent, where part of the consideration is of that character

Clause 25 From section 44, Finance Act, 1940 The relaxations provided for in section 40, Finance Act, 1944, are covered by section 30 of this Bill.

Clause 26.—From section 17, Finance Act (No. 2), 1940.

Clause 27.—From section 5(2), Finance Act, 1894, and section 13, Finance Act, 1898.

Clause 28.—

Illustration.—A dies leaving movable property in a province of India, being domiciled at the time of his death in the United Kingdom. By reason of the situation of the property in such province, the unreduced estate duty on the property under this Act, is, say, Rs. 2,000. By reason of the domicile of the diseased the same property is liable to an unreduced estate duty of, say, £600 in the United Kingdom equivalent to Rs. 8,000. Assuming that the United Kingdom is notified as "reciprocating territory", the reduced duty due under this Act is arrived at by dividing the higher of the two duties, namely, Rs. 8,000 between India and the United Kingdom in the proportion of 2,000 : 8,000. The Indian share thus works out to Rs. 1,600 which is accordingly the reduced duty due in respect of that property under this Act. Under the existing law in the United Kingdom, section 20 of the Finance Act, 1894, being applicable to the provinces of India, the United Kingdom duty will be reduced by Rs. 1,600 so that the reduced United Kingdom duty will be the equivalent of Rs. 6,400, i.e., £480.

Clause 29.—From section 15, Finance Act, 1914.

Clause 30.—This clause is intended to cover, amongst others, the deductions and relaxations provided for in section 51, Finance Act, 1940, and sections 38 and 40, Finance Act, 1944. The following are some of the exemptions which, if considered desirable may be allowed under this clause:—

(a) Gifts made in consideration of marriage.

(b) Gifts proved to have been part of the normal expenditure of the deceased and to have been reasonable: e.g., where a well-to-do man makes allowances to his children amounting to perhaps a fifth of his income; on his death no claim for estate duty need arise in respect of payments made within 3 years.

(c) Gifts not exceeding a certain limit, say, Rs. 1,000.

(d) Gifts to the Crown.

[See clause 48(4).] In fact, it may have to be filed as early as possible if the interest due under clause 52 is to be reduced to a minimum. This preliminary account will serve as a notice of the death to the Board, so that the Board may, if necessary, start making inquiries under clause 54. At a later stage, the persons accountable should be in a position to deliver a full statement, to pay the entire duty due, and to obtain a certificate of payment under sub-clause (1) or (5) of clause 56. In complicated cases, they can apply and obtain a certificate of payment under clause 58. It is only a certificate under clause 56 or clause 58 that discharges the property. (See clause 65.) A certificate under clause 53 suffices for a grant of representation, so as to enable the grantee as early as possible to get in all the property vesting in him and to submit a full inventory as required by section 317, Indian Succession Act, 1925, but such a certificate does not operate as a discharge for the purposes of clause 65.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 23rd March, 1948:—

A. BILL* No. 31 OF 1948.

A Bill to provide for the development and control of atomic energy and for purposes connected therewith.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the development and control of atomic energy and for purposes connected therewith;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Atomic Energy Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to all the Provinces of India.

2. Declaration as to expediency of Central Government's control.—It is hereby declared that it is expedient in the public interest that the Central Government should take under its control the development of—

(a) any industry connected with the production or use of atomic energy, and

(b) any mineral which is or may be used for the production or use of atomic energy or research into matters connected therewith.

3. Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "atomic energy" means the energy released from atomic nuclei as a result of any process, including the fission process, but does not include energy released in any process of natural transmutation of a radio-active decay which is not accelerated or influenced by external means;

(b) "minerals" includes all substances obtained or obtainable from the soil by underground or surface working;

(c) "plant" includes any machinery, equipment or appliance, whether affixed to land or not;

(d) "prescribed substance" means uranium, thorium, plutonium, neptunium or beryllium or any of their respective compounds or any other substance which the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, prescribe, being a substance which in its opinion is or may be used for the production or use of atomic energy or research into matters connected therewith.

4. General powers of the Central Government.—The Central Government shall have power—

(a) to produce, use and dispose of atomic energy and carry out research into any matters connected therewith;

(b) to manufacture or otherwise produce, buy or otherwise acquire, store and transport any articles which in its opinion are, or are likely to be, required for or in connection with the production or use of atomic energy or such research as aforesaid, and to dispose of any articles manufactured, produced, bought or acquired by it; and

(c) to do all such things (including the erection of buildings and the execution of works and the working of minerals) as the Central Government considers necessary or expedient for the exercise of the foregoing powers.

5. Power to obtain information of materials, plant and processes.—(1) The Central Government may, by notice in writing served upon any person, require him to make such periodical and returns, at such times and containing such particulars and accompanied by such plans, drawings and other documents as may be specified in the notice—

(a) of any prescribed substance, specified in the notice, in his possession or under his control;

(b) of any minerals so specified in his possession or under his control or present in any land owned or occupied by him, being minerals from which, in the opinion of the Central Government, any prescribed substances can be obtained;

(c) of any plant in his possession or under his control designed or adapted for the production or use of atomic energy or research into matters connected therewith;

(d) of any contract entered into by him, or licence granted by or to him relating to the production or use of atomic energy or research into matters connected therewith;

(e) of any other information in his possession relating to any work carried out by him or on his behalf or under his direction in connection with the production or use of atomic energy or research into matters connected therewith.

(2) If any person—

(a) fails to comply with any notice served on him under this section, or

(b) knowingly makes any untrue statement in any return made in pursuance of such notice, he shall be guilty of an offence under this Act.

6. Power of entry and inspection. [illegible] person authorised by the Central Government on producing, if so required, some duly authenticated document showing his authority, [illegible] premises where he has reasonable grounds for believing that work is being carried on for the purpose of or in connection with the production or use of atomic energy or research into matters connected therewith, or that any of the prescribed substances, or any minerals from which any such substance can be obtained, or any such plant as is mentioned in clause (c) of sub-section (1) of the last foregoing section are situate, and may inspect the premises and any articles found therein.

(2) The person carrying out the inspection may make copies of, or extracts from, any drawing, plan or other document found in the premises, and for the purpose of making such copies or extracts may remove any such drawing, plan or other document and retain possession thereof for a period not exceeding seven days.

(3) If any person wilfully obstructs any person exercising powers under this section, he shall be guilty of an offence under this Act.

7. Power to do work for purpose of discovering minerals.—(1) The Central Government may, subject to the provisions of this section, do work over or below the surface of any land such work as it considers necessary for the purpose of discovering whether there is present in or on any land, either in a natural state or in a deposit of waste material obtained from any underground or surface working, any mineral from which, in its opinion any of the prescribed substances can be obtained, and the extent to which such mineral is so present.

(2) Before any powers are exercised under sub-section (1) in relation to any land, the Central Government shall serve on every owner, lessee and occupier of the land a notice in writing specifying the nature of the work proposed to be done and the extent of the land affected, and the time, not less than twenty-eight days, within which and the manner in which objections can be made thereto, and no such power shall be exercised otherwise

---

*The Governor-General has been pleased to give the previous sanction required by sub-section (3) of section 299 of the Government of India Act, 1935, as adapted by the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947, to the introduction of this Bill in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) and has, in pursuance of sub-section (3) of section 37 of the said Act, recommended to the Legislature the consideration of the Bill.

and any such order may contain such incidental and supplementary provisions, including provisions for seizure, retention and disposal of any article in respect of which there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that a contravention of the order has been committed, as the Central Government considers necessary.

(2) Any person who contravenes or fails to comply with an order made under this section or any conditions subject to which a licence is granted under this section shall be guilty of an offence under this Act.

sub-rule (3) shall be renumbered as sub- 2).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

most important part of the Bill is the pro- amendment of Sec. 34 of the Income-tax which prescribes the conditions under which eted assessments may be re-opened by the e-tax Department. This is based on the mendation made by the Income-tax Investi- Commission who have submitted an interim on the subject in view of the extreme urgency of the matter. The Commission have come to the conclusion that the existing law, under which completed assessments cannot be re-opened except after the Income-tax Officer actually discovers an under-assessment in consequence of definite information which has come into his possession, does not afford adequate safeguard against loss of public revenue, particularly such loss as arises from the tactics employed by the dishonest tax-evader. They have, therefore, recommended that when an assessee does not make a full disclosure of all particulars concerning his income his assessment may be re-opened by the Income-tax Officer if he satisfies his immediate superior (the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner of Income-tax) that there is reason to believe that there has been escapement of tax. The Commission have also recommended that the Commissioner of Income-tax should have the power to revise within two years any order of the Income-tax Officer which is prejudicial to the revenue, subject to the assessee's right of appeal against such revision, to the Income-tax Appellate Tribunal. Another important recommendation of the Commission is that the Income-tax Department should have the power to attach debts due from any person to an assessee who defaults payment of tax demanded from him. These recommendations of the Commission with which the Government agree are incorporated in the amendments proposed in the Bill.

The other amendments of the Income-tax Act and Business Profits Tax Act are, as explained in the notes on clauses below, of a clarificatory nature, or consequential to the changes effected in the Government of India Act by the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947.

The provision which was originally made in the Finance Bill for allowing Municipal taxes as a deduction in computing the income from property, has been omitted from that Bill and included in this Amendment Bill as suggested by the Select Committee on the Finance Bill.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

CHAPTER II.

Clause 2.—In connection with the Budget proposals for the financial year 1948-49, the expression "Indian Company" has been defined separately. In view of this, there is no necessity to treat British Companies differently from other non-Indian Companies. Hence the change in the definition.

Clause 3.—Section 272 of the Government of India Act, 1935, which exempted pensions payable to officers of Government residing permanently out of India has been omitted by the India (Provisional Constitution) Order, 1947. This consequential amendment in the Income-tax Act removes the statutory bar against abrogating this exemption.

Clause 4.—Sub-clause (a) provides for the deduction of Municipal taxes in computing the income chargeable under the head "Property".

Sub-clause (b) removes the anomaly in the present law, as pointed out in a judgment of the Privy Council, viz., that while in the case of a Hindu impartible estate the income from Property belongs absolutely to the individual holder thereof, the liability for assessment to income-tax falls on the Hindu family which is the legal owner of the property. The amendment provides that in such a case the holder shall be assessed in his individual capacity on the income which is exclusively his, and not the Hindu undivided family as such.

Clause 5.—Sub-clause (a) provides that in computing Capital Gains the fair market value of the asset as on 1st January 1939 can be adopted in cases where the previous owner acquired the asset before that date. Sub-clause (b) provides that in computing Capital Gains in respect of an asset acquired by the assessee before 1st April 1947 by gift or on the partition of a Hindu undivided family, the market value of the asset on the date of the gift, or on the date of partition, could be adopted if that is more advantageous to the assessee. In the case of an asset acquired on or after 1st April 1947 on the partition of a Hindu undivided family, provision is made that the market value on the date of the partition could be adopted.

Clause 6.—As explained under Clause 4, in the case of a Hindu impartible estate, the income belongs to the individual holder but the estate belongs to the family. Any sums paid to a member of the family out of the income of the estate would not be out of the income of the family and would not, therefore, be exempt in the hands of the member. The amendment provides for the exemption of any sums paid out of the income of the holder of an impartible estate belonging to the family.

Clause 7.—This new provision empowers the Commissioner to revise within two years any order of the Income-tax Officer which is prejudicial to the revenue. The assessee is given the right of appeal to the Appellate Tribunal against the Commissioner's order of revision in exactly the same manner as he has the right of appeal against the Appellate Assistant Commissioner's order.

Clause 8.—Section 34 as recast makes a distinction between two categories of assessees, namely those who make a full and fair disclosure of all material facts to the Income-tax Officer and those who do not. In the latter case if the Income-tax Officer satisfies the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner that he has reason to believe that by reason of the assessee's failure to make a full disclosure of his income there has been escapement of tax, he can initiate re-assessment proceedings. The period for completing the assessments has been extended and the assessment can now be completed within one year of the service of the notice provided the notice is served within the time-limit.

Clause 9.—This new sub-section extends the principle of sub-section (5) by conferring on the Income-tax Officer power to attach debts due from any person to the assessee who is in default in making payment. Any amount paid by a person in compliance with the Income-tax Officer's order under this sub-section is a sufficient discharge of his liability to the assessee. If the person concerned does not pay the amount to the Income-tax Officer, further proceedings are to be taken by and before the Collector as if the attachment were by the Collector in exercise of his powers under section 46(2).

Clause 10—Section 108 of the Government of India Act, 1935, which was a bar to the introduction of any amendment affecting inter alia the grant of relief in respect of income taxed or taxable in the United Kingdom has now been omitted. Section 49 of the Income-tax Act which was based on the above-mentioned section of the Government of India Act is, therefore, also being omitted.

Clause 11.—Section 159 of the Government of India Act, under which His Majesty in Council issued the India and Burma (Income-tax Relief) Order, 1936, has been omitted. The amen provides for double income-tax relief ar ments being made with Burma on reciprocal Clause 12.—Enables the Central Gover to enter into an agreement with the U K avoidance of double taxation of income. ing the conclusion of such an agreemen existing Double Income-tax Relief arrange will be continued by a notification under s 49A.

CHAPTER III.

Clause 13.—Defines the term "director's neration" and substitutes the existing defini the term "working partner" of a firm by definition. The proposed definition of the "director's remuneration" is intended to co the effect of a recent U. K. decision which that remuneration paid to a director in his ca of secretary was not director's remuneration to obviate the possibility of that decision held to cover also the remuneration paid director in the capacity of manager, etc.

The existing definition of the term "wo partner" would be difficult to apply in pr because many partnership agreements do require any partner to devote any specific ti the business. The amended definition will the question dependent upon the actual fa each case.

Clause 14.—Makes some verbal alteratio section 9 to secure that where a Hindu undi family is interested in more than one busine profits from those businesses may be aggregat in the case of an individual. It also makes a alteration in the section to bring the main se into harmony with the terms of the second pr

The other amendment proposed in this clau designed to prevent an individual or a Hindu divided family being given an abatement in nection with the assessment of the profits partnership remaining after exclusion there of his or its share therein in addition to the a ment allowable in his or its personal assess under the said section.

Clause 15.—Amends Rule 2 of Schedule I the Act so as to ensure that where investmen come is includible in the assessable profit capital as computed for abatement purpose cludes the corresponding investments and no

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The provisions of law relating to banking companies at present form a sidiary portion of the general law applicable to companies and are tained in Part XA of the Indian Companies Act, 1913. These provisions, which were first introduced in 1936, and which have undergone two sequent modifications, have proved inadequate and difficult to administer. wever while the primary objective of Companies Law is to guard the interests of the stock-holder, that of banking legislation uld be the protection of the interests of the depositor. It has therefore n felt for some time that separate legislation was necessary for the ulation of banking in India. This need has become the more insistent account of the considerable development that has taken place in recent rs in banking, especially the rapid growth of banking resources and of number of banks and branches. Regard must also be had to the fact t the banking system is likely in the post-war period to be more nerable by reason of the great expansion, both quantitatively and itively, that has taken place in demand deposits, as compared with time osits, during the war years. The enactment of a separate comprehen- measure has in consequence now become imperative.

2 With this object in view, a Bill to amend the law relating to king Companies was introduced in the Legislative Assembly in ember 1944 and was subsequently circulated for eliciting public nion through the Provincial Governments. In the ensuing Budget sion of the Assembly, the Bill was referred to a Select mittee which was due to meet in October 1945, but it lapsed before consideration by the Committee. A fresh Bill with certain modifica- s which suggested themselves on consideration of the opinions and icisms received on the 1944 Bill was introduced in the Legislative embly in March 1946 and was referred to a Select Committee in April 6 The report of the Select Committee was presented to the Assembly the 17th February 1947. As it was the original intention of the ernment that the Bill should be taken up for disposal by the Constituent embly (Legislative) in the form in which it emerged from the ct Committee and that the changes necessitated in the Bill as a lt of the passing of the Indian Independence Act, 1947, and other elopments should be moved in the House as separate amendments, a ion for the continuation of that Bill was adopted on the 17th November 7 In view however of a fairly large number of amendments, Govern- t considered that the passage of the measure would be facilitated if Bill as reported upon by the Select Committee were withdrawn and a h Bill incorporating all the amendments were introduced and referred Select Committee The Bill was accordingly withdrawn on the 30th uary 1948 The present Bill is the result of long and detailed considera- by expert Committees, the Reserve Bank, the public including the esentatives of banks, the Government and the Legislature. The main ures of the Bill are as follows:—

(i) A comprehensive definition of "banking" so as to bring within the e of the legislation all institutions which receive deposits, repayable demand or otherwise, for lending or investment;

(ii) Prohibiting non-banking companies from accepting deposits repay- on demand;

(iii) Prohibition of trading with a view to eliminating non-banking s,

(iv) Prescription of minimum capital standards;

(v) Limiting the payment of dividends;

(vi) Inclusion in the scope of the legislation of banks incorporated registered outside the Provinces of India;

(vii) Introduction of a comprehensive system of licensing of banks their branches;

(viii) Prescription of a special form of balance-sheet and conferring powers on the Reserve Bank to call for periodical returns;

(ix) Inspection of the books and accounts of a bank by the Rese Bank;

(x) Empowering the Central Government to take action against ba conducting their affairs in a manner detrimental to the interests of depositors;

(xi) Provision for bringing the Reserve Bank of India into closer to with banking companies;

(xii) Provision of an expeditious procedure for liquidation;

(xiii) Bringing the Imperial Bank of India within the purview of so of the provisions of the Bill;

(xiv) Widening the powers of the Reserve Bank of India so as to ena it to come to the aid of banking companies in times of emergency;

(xv) Provision for the extension of the Act to acceding States.

Brief explanatory notes on the several clauses are given in the anne notes on clauses.

NEW DELHI:
The 12th March 1948.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 1(1).—The Bill is confined to companies carrying on the busi of banking. It would be impracticable to include within its scope institutions and individuals dealing in credit in view of the complex cre structure of the country and the fact that money-lending is an item provincial legislation.

Clause 2.—Except in matters pertaining to banking it is desirable th the Indian Companies Act should continue to be applicable to banki companies.

Clause 3.—It is unnecessary to include co-operative banks, which governed by special legislation.

Clause 4.—The object underlying this clause is that in cases of genu emergency, e.g., a general run on all banks or a run on some bank in particular area, Government should have power to suspend the operati of the Act, after considering the recommendations of the Reserve Ba The suspension of clause 23 will, for instance, enable the Reserve Bank give an advance to tide over a banking crisis against liquid assets maintai ed by banks under that clause.

Clause 5(b).—The present definition of banking in section 277F of t Indian Companies Act gives rise to administrative difficulties, particula in respect of the words "principal business" in determining whether company comes within its scope. The new definition is intended to com nking definitely with the acceptance of deposits from the public for the rpose of lending or investment and to bring within its ambit all the banks hich accept demand or time deposits.

Clause 5(n).—This defines the terms "secured loan or advance" and unsecured loan or advance".

Clause 6.—Based on sections 277F and 277G(2) of the Indian Companies ct, 1913.

Clause 7.—Sub-clause (1) is considered necessary for the protection of e interests of the depositors while sub-clause (2) embodies in substance e existing proviso to section 277F of the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

Clause 8. –In order to prevent the use of demand deposits for long term vestment or for capital expenditure, non-banking companies have been ohibited from accepting deposits repayable on demand.

Clause 9.—This is intended to prohibit a bank from engaging directly indirectly in trading activities and undertaking trading risks in addition ordinary banking risks. Certain banks have been found to engage in ch activities under the guise of agency business.

Clause 10.—It is not intended to prohibit a bank from conducting the anagement of industrial concerns or other non-banking assets which it ay have acquired in satisfaction of its claims, provided that such assets e disposed of within a period of seven years which may be extended up twelve years by the Reserve Bank.

Clause 11.—This embodies the new section 277HH, added to the Indian mpanies Act, 1913, by the Indian Companies (Amendment) Act, 1944, pplemented by a provision disallowing the employment of managing ents under some other name, or on a salary disproportionate to the sources of the bank, or of a person who is a director of any other company t being a subsidiary of the banking company or who is engaged in any er business or vocation.

Clause 12.- One of the chief defects of the Indian banking system is the ak and vulnerable capital structure of the vast majority of banks, as idenced by the fact that during the years 1934–45, no less than 715 nking companies were liquidated or wound up, most of which possessed y poor capital resources. Even the minimum of Rs. 50,000 prescribed the Indian Companies Act for banks incorporated after the 15th January 7, is low as compared with many other countries, notwith-nding the lower standard of wealth of India. Another defect in the sent banking system is the undue concentration of banking offices in a cities and towns whereas a very large number of small towns have no nking facilities. Small banks with low capital have also a tendency to n branches in larger towns which have already sufficient banking ilities. Clause 12(1) seeks to remedy these defects. In the case of nking companies incorporated outside India, the provisions as regards ital do not afford any real protection, hence the safeguarding provisions sub-clause (2).

Sub-clause (3) follows section 277 I(2) of the Indian Companies Act plemented by a provision that the voting rights of any shareholder shall exceed 10 per cent. of the total voting rights of all the shareholders. provision has also been made whereby the Reserve Bank may allow a king company wishing to raise its capital a period not exceeding two rs to comply with the provisions of clause 12(3)(a).

Clause 13.—This seeks to impose a limitation on the commission pay on the issue of shares by a bank.

Clause 14.—This reproduces section 277J of the Indian Companies

Clause 15.—Payment of dividend when capitalized expenses are standing is against the canons of sound banking, hence the prohibit In the interests of depositors and of the general public, it is also desir to fix a statutory maximum limit to the rate of dividend that can be by new banking companies.

Clause 16.—This is intended to prevent interlocking of director between banking companies.

Clause 17.—This more or less embodies sub-sections (1) and (2 section 277K of the Indian Companies Act. Sub-section (3) of that se has been omitted in view of clause 23 of the Bill which provides f general reserve.

Clause 18.—This follows section 277L(1) of the Indian Companies except that the prescribed returns are to be filed with the Reserve B and not the Registrar.

Sub-section (2) of section 277L, which defines the terms "dem liabilities" and "time liabilities", has been removed to clause 5 of the I

Clause 19.—This clause is intended to prevent banks from carrying trading activities by acquiring a controlling interest in non-bai companies. It follows the lines of section 277M of the Indian Compa Act with certain modifications. The limitation on the amount of inv ment by a banking company in the shares of a non-banking company been based with reference to the share capital of the banking company well as of the company whose shares are purchased and the percentage been reduced to 20 per cent. The words "paid-up share capital" have l substituted for the words "issued share capital" as the latter term is so what confusing and is used indiscriminately.

The proviso to section 277M(2) of the Indian Companies Act has l omitted as there is no reason why the exemption made in favour of share-holdings should be perpetuated. It is also desirable that bank companies may be allowed by the Reserve Bank a period not excee two years to bring their share-holding into compliance with the provi and that they should be exempted from penalty in case of such advertent and temporary breaches of the provision.

Clause 20.—Past failures of several banks in India have been due mo to indiscriminate advances to directors or their concerns. An absolute unqualified ban on such transactions would, however, result in depriv the banks of the advantage of having on their directorate important experienced industrial magnates. A check is therefore prescribed advances to directors and their concerns.

Clause 21.—When the Reserve Bank's original "proposals for an Ind Bank Act" were circulated in 1940, suggestions were received that a sys of licensing foreign banks doing business in the Provinces of India sho be introduced. The Banking Enquiry Committee had also recomme that banks should be required to take out licences from the Reserve Ba such licences being granted freely to the existing banks. Clause 21 s to introduce a comprehensive system of licensing of banks by Reserve Bank, the grant of the licence being dependent upon the ma tenance of a satisfactory financial condition subject to the further qualifi tion in the case of foreign banks that their country of origin does not criminate in any manner against banks registered in the provinces of Ind

Clause 22.—Based on the provisions of sub-sections (i) and (ii) of ...on 3 of the Banking Companies (Restriction of Branches) Act, 1946.

Clause 23.—This clause is an attempt to prescribe by law what has ...dy been recognised as sound banking practice, viz., that a bank should ...p a reserve of cash and liquid assets to meet its demand liabilities. One ...the worst defects of Indian banking is the propensity of the smaller ...ks to overtrade at the expense of liquidity and it seems best to insist ...t banks maintaining a reasonably large proportion of their cover in ...form of cash or trustee secuities as defined in the Indian Trusts Act, ...uding immovable property. The proportion of 20 per cent. is in ...ordance with the actual practice followed by smaller banks.

Clause 24.—The failure of a bank incorporated outside the Provinces India which had the bulk of its deposits from the Provinces, but the ...ater part of the assets outside the Provinces has brought out the neces... of protecting the interests of depositors in Indian Provinces by requiring ...h banks to maintain a reasonable proportion of their liability in the ...vinces of India in the form of assets in the Provinces. Export bills are ...luded in such assets with a view to helping Indian exports.

Clause 25.—The intention in prescribing an annual return of deposits ...ch remain unclaimed for 10 years is to enable the Reserve Bank to have necessary data for consideration of the question whether deposits ...aining unclaimed for a prescribed period should be transferred to ...ernment making it responsible for meeting any claim which may be ...blished in future. Similar returns are called for, in the banking ...islation of Canada, and it is provided there that after the lapse of a ...tain period of years the deposits will be paid over to Government.

Clause 26.—The existing return under section 42 of the Reserve Bank ...applies only to scheduled banks and also omits important details like ...stments. For an adequate control of banking development, it is ...essary that the Reserve Bank should have a full picture of the banking ...ation of the country through periodical returns of assets and liabilities. ... also desirable in order that the Reserve Bank may be able to dis...rge its responsibilities as the Central Bank of the country that it should ...uthorised to call for information relating to their business from banks.

Clause 27.—It is desirable to authorise the Reserve Bank to publish in a ...solidated form the information obtained by it under clause 26, if it ...siders such publication in the public interest.

Clause 28.—The Form F, laid down by the Indian Companies Act is ...nt for companies in general and is not suited to the special require...ts of banking companies. Many of the smaller banks publish their ...ance-sheets in different forms and there is no uniformity of presentation. ...banks also close their books on different dates making it difficult to ...a picture of the banking situation of the country as on a particular ... The Central Banking Inquiry Committee, which considered this ...tion in detail, recommended a separate form for banking companies. ...regards banks incorporated outside the Provinces of India, there is no ...ision in the Companies Act for the publication of separate balance...ts of their Indian business. In Forms A and B of the Schedule to the ...king Companies Bill, an attempt has been made to provide a form of ...nce-sheet and profit and loss account specially suitable for banking ...panies.

Clause 29.—This provides for the audit of the statements prescribed ...er clause 28.

Clause 30.—At present, some of the banks publish their balance-sheets after a considerable period from the date to which they relate so that position of the banks remains unknown for an unduly long period. clause remedies this defect.

Clause 31.—This is based on section 17 of the Insurance Act, 1938.

Clause 32.—There is no provision in the Indian Companies Act for publication of balance-sheets by banking companies incorporated out the Provinces of India similar to that contained in section 136, applic. to companies incorporated in the Provinces of India. This clause prov. for uniformity of treatment as regards the publication of balance-sheets.

Clause 33.—This provides for the period of transition and foll section 17A of the Insurance Act, 1938.

Clause 34.—The opinions received on the Reserve Bank's "Proposals an Indian Bank Act", circulated in 1940, revealed that public opinion generally in favour of the inspection of banks by Government or the Res Bank. In view of this and in the light of the experience gained by Reserve Bank in connection with the inspection of banks for the purp of section 42(6) of the Reserve Bank Act, provision has been made for inspection of a bank's books by the Reserve Bank on its own initiativ at the instance of the Central Government. Sub-clause (1) gener. follows the lines of section 3 of the Banking Companies (Inspect. Ordinance, 1946 and sub-clauses (2) and (3) make necessary provision securing that the directors and officers of the bank furnish all informa and documents requisite for a proper investigation of its affairs. S clauses (4) and (5) enumerate the corrective measures which the Cen Government may take.

Clause 35.—This clause sets out further duties and functions of Reserve Bank in its relations with banking concerns and empowers Reserve Bank to have full information about the working of banks and have the authority to be able to render timely and adequate help w necessary. A provision has also been made for an annual review by Reserve Bank on the progress of banking throughout the country.

Clause 36.—This clause is a modification of section 277N of the Ind Companies Act, the period of moratorium having been limited to months. It is the intention that the report under sub-clause (2) should submitted by the Reserve Bank.

Clause 37.—The provisions of the Indian Companies Act in respect liquidation do not seem to be suitable for banking companies. A ban business is conducted on an over-the-counter basis and it is important current accounts should be withdrawable at any time and drafts, etc., sho be honoured on presentation, otherwise great business dislocation is lik to result. A provision has, therefore, been made under this clause for winding up of a banking company if it refuses to meet a lawful dem for payment at one of its offices or branches within two working days such demand is made at a place where there is an office or branch or age of the Reserve Bank, or within five working days, elsewhere. The cla also authorises the Reserve Bank to apply for the liquidation of a bank company if it appears from the results of an inspection made under claus that its affairs are being conducted to the detriment of the interests of depositors.

Clause 38.—Experience has shown that the cost of liquidation proceedings under the Indian Companies Act is high. It has, therefore, been provided in this clause that after the expiry of two years from the commencement of the Act, the Reserve Bank should be empowered to carry out liquidations so that unnecessary expense and delay in liquidation proceedings may be avoided, and that the assets may be realised as speedily and cheaply as possible in the interests of the creditors.

Clause 39.—This limits the power of the Court to stay proceedings to cases in which it is satisfied that the depositors can be paid in full.

Clause 40.—The period prescribed under section 177B of the Indian Companies Act for the submission of a preliminary report by the official liquidator is too long in the case of a banking company and the clause is intended to remedy this defect.

Clause 41.—In the case of a banking company, rapidity in liquidation is essential if the assets are not to grow cold or to be dissipated. The provisions for calling meetings of creditors to discuss arrangements or to appoint an advisory committee to work with the official liquidator should, therefore, be rescinded in the case of banking companies unless the Court directs that this should be done.

Clause 42.—This simplifies the formalities for depositors proving their claims.

Clause 43.—It has been found that banking companies in a shaky condition take advantage of the voluntary winding up proceedings or manipulate such proceedings to the disadvantage of the depositors who are a scattered body and are unlikely to take concerted action. The clause is intended to prevent such abuses by a banking company which holds a licence granted under clause 21.

Clause 44.—It is intended that Courts should disallow an application proposing a scheme of arrangement or compromise unless the Reserve Bank certifies that such a scheme of arrangement or compromise is in the interests of the depositors of the banking company concerned. The clause is also intended to make amalgamations of banks subject to the approval of the Reserve Bank so as to prevent amalgamations between unsound companies.

Clause 45.—This provides for penalties in the event of non-compliance with the provisions of the Act.

Clause 46.—This is based upon section 278 of the Indian Companies Act.

Clause 47.—This is based upon section 279 of the Indian Companies Act.

Clause 48.—The Indian Companies Act exempts private companies from some of its provisions. Some of these have been made applicable to such banking companies.

Clause 49.—The operation of the provisions contained in clauses 11, 16, 34 and 36 may result in an individual losing a perhaps lucrative appointment. It has, therefore, been made clear that he will have no cause of action on that account.

Clause 50.—It is intended that where the Act has been extended to an acceding State under sub-clause (3) of clause 1 or where any acceding State enacts a law corresponding to this Act, the banks incorporated in such acceding States should be treated on the same basis as those incorporated in any Province of India.

Clause 51.—The constitution of the Imperial Bank of India is regula by a separate Act. However, in certain matters not covered by that the provisions of this Act have been made applicable to the Imperial Ba of India.

Clause 52.—This empowers the Central Government to make regulatio under the Act after consultation with the Reserve Bank.

Clause 53.—This is a consequential amendment.

Clause 54.—This embodies the provisions of section 2 of the Rese Bank of India (Temporary Amendment) Ordinance, 1947.

Clause 55.—The experience of the working of section 42(6) of Reserve Bank Act indicates the desirability of amending it in the follow respects:—

(1) The authority to include in or exclude from the second schedule a bank should vest in the Reserve Bank rather than the Central Gove ment, as the former is in the best position, and the latter has no independ means of verifying whether the bank satisfies the requirements of section.

(2) In view of the increased status and the general impression soundness created by the inclusion of a bank in the schedule, a furth criterion should be added for admission, namely, that the affairs of bank concerned are not being conducted to the detriment of the intere of its depositors and provision should be made for exclusion from schedule if the bank ceases to satisfy this condition.

(3) Provision is also necessary for the grant of extension of time to bank before its exclusion to enable it to set its affairs in order where appears that there is a reasonable prospect of an improvement in its affa during the period.

(4) It is desirable that the Reserve Bank should be authorised to chan the description of the schedule whenever any scheduled bank changes name.

(5) The term "value" for the purposes of the section should be clea defined as the real or exchangeable value of the capital and reserves a not the nominal value as shown in the bank's books and provision sho also be made for the settlement of any dispute in this regard.

This clause seeks to amend section 42(6) on these lines.

Clause 56.—Repeals.

He is conscious of his shortcomings but he has the satisfaction of saying only what he has thought fit without pandering to the prevailing tastes. He was never tired of his surroundings and always actively responded to them with an alert mind and spirit. In spite of all distractions he has been able to realise the great mission of his life and has tried to work it out with his limited powers and is grateful for the recognition he has so far received.] Pages 133. RT VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

onstituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

he following Bill was introduced in the Con- ent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the February, 1948:—

A. BILL No. 17 OF 1948.

ill to provide punishment for free or forced or compulsory labour.

HEREAS it is expedient to provide punishment ee or forced or compulsory labour; is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) Act may be called the Prevention of Free or ed or Compulsory Labour Act of 194

It shall extend to the whole of India

It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is any- g repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Free labour" means labour without providing remuneration in cash at the prevailing market rates in the locality for that kind of labour:

(b) "Forced or compulsory labour" shall mean all work or service which is exacted from any person under the menace of any penalty and for which the said person has not offered himself voluntarily:

Provided that the term forced or compulsory labour shall not include any work or service exacted under the Indian Forest Act, 1927 (Act XVI of 1927) and the Bombay Irrigation Act, 1879 (Bombay Act VII of 1879).

3. Punishment for taking free or forced or compulsory service.—Whoever takes or attempts to take or abets the taking of free or forced or compulsory service of any manual labour from any person shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees, or with both.

4. Offences to be cognizable.—The offences under this Act shall be cognizable and triable by any magistrate within whose local jurisdiction either the free or forced labour is taken or the person from whom such free or forced labour is taken resides.

5. Working hours.—The normal working hours of any person from whom forced or compulsory labour is exacted shall be the same as those prevailing in the case of voluntary labour and the hours worked in excess of the normal working hours shall be remunerated at the rates prevailing in the case of overtime for voluntary labour.

6. Rates of remuneration.—Forced or compulsory labour of all kinds shall be remunerated in cash at rates not less than those prevailing for similar kind of work either in the district in which the labour is employed or in the district from which the labour is recruited, whichever may be higher.

Explanation.—For the purpose of payment of wages the days spent in travelling to and from the place of work shall be counted as working days.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

All forms of free or forced labour have their roots in the feudal form of society. This evil prevails in its most aggravated form in rural areas where feudal remnants still survive and thrive. They have outlived their age and it is high time to put a stop to it.

The International Labour Conference which in 1930 passed a convention for the abolitio forced or compulsory labour.

The principle that no person can be comp to labour against his will is recognized by se 374 of the Indian Penal Code. But the wo of the section is so vague that it has failed to out this evil. The mischief does not lie in pulsion alone, but in non-payment of wages often inadequate payments.

This Bill seeks to make free or compulso forced labour an offence punishable with impri ment or fine or both. It recognises two excep to compulsory labour. It allows impressed la provided for in the Indian Forest Act, 1927, the Bombay Irrigation Act, 1879. As it is just that such labour ought to be adequ remunerated, the Bill makes provision for payment.

A Bill to change the name of the Imperial Library

WHEREAS it is expedient to change the name of the Imperial Library;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Imperial Library (Change of Name) Act, 1948.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In view of the constitutional changes in the country it is not appropriate that the word "Imperial" is associated with national institutions in India. STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The subject of civil marriage in India has long been one of controversy. Before the Special Marriage Act of 1872 was enacted, the Government Draftsman pointed out that in all European countries, a form of civil marriage exists and that there is no reason why it should not be extended to India. Opposition to this view was launched by the members of several communities with the result that they were excluded from the operation of the Bill, which was passed as the Special Marriage Act of 1872. In 1923, the present author sought to enlarge the provisions of this Act which resulted in a compromise enacted in Act XXX of 1923. Since then, India has become free and its policy is to establish in India a secular state with the result that we should have in this country a non-religious form of civil marriage open to all persons without reference to their caste, creed or religion.

Very recently the author of the present Bill had sought to introduce in the Dominion Parliament an amending Bill to remove the limitations enacted in the Act XXX of 1923, but after he had drafted the Bill, his attention was drawn to another Bill introduced by Dr. P. S. Deshmukh in which he intended to graft on the Act of 1872 a provision for the registration of marriages made under the personal law of the parties, the result being that the Bill would retain the words considered offending by the author in the Act of 1923. In order to reconcile these two views and jointly to carry out the provisions of marriage laws of all civilized countries this Bill is drafted which would repeal the Act of 1872 and enact new law in which the relevant provisions of that Act have so far as possible been retained.

Act III of 1872 was passed after a serious struggle between the religious conservatives and the social reformers who had pressed upon the Government the necessity of prescribing a secular law of marriage as it existed in all civilized countries. The opposition opposed this law as contravening their personal law which controlled marriages. The Act of 1872 was designated "the Special Law of Marriage" as distinct from the general religious law of marriage obtaining in the country. This Act has been since subjected to later amendments which did not alter the basic principle of that Act, but modified some of its provisions. The present Bill is intended to establish a universal secular law of marriage—not compulsory but optional with those who wish to use it. A new designation and a new Bill is therefore justified.

Dr. P. S. Deshmukh and the author of this Bill have drafted two Bills both intended to amend the Act of 1872, but so as to eliminate its special basic principle. Public opinion has now grown in favour of establishing a secular state in India and the Congress stands committed to it. This Bill is a cautious advance in providing for a secular law of marriage and at the same time enabling persons who have contracted a sacramental form of marriage to register it under this Act.

This dual object necessitates the enactment of a new Bill which not only provides for the contracting of a civil marriage, but removes a lacuna in the Act of 1872 by prescribing a universal law of succession for those who wish to have their marriages approved or registered under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In accordance with the Resolution adopted at the First Session of the Preparatory Committee of the United Nations Conference on Trade and Employment, established by the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations, the Governments of 23 States entered into negotiations at Geneva last year, the negotiations being directed to the substantial reduction of tariffs and other trade barriers and to the elimination of preferences on a reciprocal and mutually advantageous basis. These negotiations resulted in the framing of a General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and of a Protocol of Provisional Application. In common with the other countries that took part in the negotiations, India has subsequently on the 8th of June, 1948, signed the Protocol of Provisional Application of this Agreement, and thereby undertaken to apply provisionally Parts I and III of the General Agreement, and Part II of that Agreement to the fullest extent not inconsistent with existing legislation. This involves generalising on a multilateral basis the tariff concessions listed in Schedule XII to the Agreement which incorporates the commodities on which India has agreed to make such concessions.

This Bill seeks to give effect to these tariff concessions.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative), on the 2nd September, 1948:—

A Bill No. 77 of 1948.

A Bill to make provision for the extension of the terms of patent in certain cases.

Whereas it is expedient to make provision for the extension of the term of patent in certain cases;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Patents (Extension of Term) Act, 1948.

(2) It extends to all the Provinces of India.

2. Extension of term of Patent in force on the date of commencement of Act.—Notwithstanding anything contained in section 14 of the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911 (II of 1911), in this Act referred to as the "Principal Act"—

(a) any patent, dated and sealed prior to the 1st day of January, 1943, the original term of which had not expired on the date of commencement of this Act, shall have effect as if the term mentioned therein was twenty-one years instead of sixteen years, and any license existing on the date of such commencement which has been granted for the term of the patent shall be treated as having been granted for the term as so extended if the licensee so desires;

(b) any patent, the original term of which had been extended under the principal Act, prior to the date of commencement of this Act, and the extended term of which had not expired on that date, shall have effect as if the extended term had been further extended by a period of five years and any license existing on that date which has been granted for the term of the patent, including the extended term, shall be treated as having been granted for the term further extended hereby if the licensee so desires.

3. Extension of term of patent in other cases.—(1) Where—

(a) the original term of any patent as prescribed by section 14 of the principal Act or

(b) the term of any patent extended under the provisions of section 15 of the principal Act or the term of any new patent granted under that section, had expired at any time during the period commencing on the 1st day of January, 1943, and ending before the date of commencement of this Act, then, notwithstanding anything contained in the principal Act, the patentee in respect of the expired patent may present a petition to the Controller praying that a new patent may be granted for a further term, and, if the Controller is satisfied that by reason of circumstances arising out of the recent war in which His Majesty was engaged or by reason of any civil disturbances that have taken place during the period mentioned, earlier in this sub-section, the patent had not been sufficiently remunerative, he may, subject to such conditions, restrictions and provisions as he may specify, order the grant of a new patent for an term not exceeding five years.

(2) Where any person other than the patentee in respect of the expired patent is subjected to loss or liability by reason of the grant in respect of such expired patent of a further term under the provisions of sub-section (1) any District Court having jurisdiction may, on application made in that behalf, determine in what manner any such loss or liability shall be borne whether by the person to whom the new patent has been granted or by any other person.

4. Patentees may apply for further extension under principal Act, in certain cases.—Nothing contained in section 3 shall disentitle a patentee the original term of whose patent had expired at any time during the period mentioned in sub-section (1) of that section and to whom a new patent had been granted under that sub-section from presenting a petition before the expiry of the new term for a further extension thereof under the provisions of section 15 of the principal Act.

5. Act II of 1911 to apply to petitions under this Act.—Subject to the provisions contained in this Act, the principal Act shall apply, so far as may be, to petitions presented under this Act, as if they were petitions or applications under the principal Act.

6. Power to prescribe fees.—The Central Government may make rules prescribing the fees to be paid in respect of anything to be done or any action to be taken under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 14 of the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911, limits the normal term of a patent to sixteen years. A large number of patents taken under the Act which are about to expire or which expired recently could not, however, be worked for their full term owing to the abnormal conditions which prevailed during the Second World War and the civil disturbances of the post-war period. It has been represented to Government that relief should be given to owners of patents who were prevented from exploiting their patents on account of the war or the abnormal circum-

...es during the post-war period. After consultation with the Controller of Patents and Designs ...alcutta, it is now proposed that relief should ...iven to the following classes of patentees to ...extent and in the manner specified, namely,—

(1) patentees whose patents are in force at the commencement of this Act should automatically get a further extension of five years in respect of their patents,

(2) patentees whose patents had expired at any time during the period between 1st January, 1943, and the date of commencement of this Act should be given an opportunity of applying for a fresh patent under this Act for a fresh term not exceeding five years.

The main provisions of the Bill are intended ...give effect to these proposals.

It may be stated in this connection that in ... the United Kingdom Government thought fit ...afford somewhat similar relief to patentees ...ed in comparable circumstances by suitably ...ending their Patents and Designs law.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASO[NS]

The accountancy profession in India is at [pre]sent regulated by the Auditors Certificates R[ules] framed in 1932 in exercise of the powers confe[rred] on the Government of India by section 144 of [the] Indian Companies Act, 1913, and the In[dian] Accountancy Board advises Government in matters relating to the profession and assists i[n] maintaining the standards of the professional qu[ali]fications and conduct required of the members [of] the profession. The majority of the Board's m[em]bers are elected by Registered Accountants, m[em]bers of the profession from all parts of In[dia]. These arrangements have, however, all along b[een] intended to be only transitional, to lead up t[o a] system in which such accountants will, in auto[no]mous association of themselves, largely assume [the] responsibilities involved in the discharge of th[eir] public duties by securing maintenance of [the] requisite standard of professional qualificati[ons,] discipline and conduct, the control of the Cent[ral] Government being confined to a very few speci[fied] matters.

2. The Bill seeks to authorise the incorporat[ion] by statute of such an autonomous professi[onal] body and embodies a scheme which is largely t[he] result of a detailed examination of the whole p[osi]tion by an ad hoc expert body constituted for t[he] purpose, after taking into account the views e[x]pressed by the various Provincial Governments a[nd] public bodies concerned.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In the original Bill when it was passed into an Act, through an oversight, the American College of Dentistry, which existed even before the College of Dentistry in Karachi was started, was omitted. The American College of Dentistry and the Board of Examiners College of Dentistry, Karachi, are one and the same. From the former nearly 70 students have passed out and they are doing their independent professional work scattered over various parts of the country. The omission is merely due to an oversight. The amendment seeks to do justice to a large number of students who have passed out from the same college, one part of which is recognised under the law and the other not. It is this omission that is sought to be rectified.

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 26th February, 1948:—

A. BILL No. 12 OF 1948.

A Bill to clarify and modify the law in practice hitherto followed in Criminal applications for special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council for Criminal cases decided by the Indian Courts.

WHEREAS it is expedient to clarify and modify the law in practice hitherto followed in criminal applications for special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council for criminal cases decided by the Indian Courts;

It is hereby enacted as followes:—

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Indian Judicial Procedure Act, 194 .

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. Criminal Appellate Jurisdiction of Privy Council to be transferred to Federal Court.—(1) Whereas His Majesty in Council has for the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction to advise His Majesty on the subject of criminal applications from India granting leave to hear applications and appeals in all criminal cases from British India, and whereas it is now necessary that this law in practice should be transferred over to the Federal Court of India, it is hereby declared that all applications of the kind and character made to His Majesty's Judicial Committee of the Pri Council shall hereafter be made to and heard by Federal Court.

(2) The procedure and practice in vogue in said His Majesty's Judicial Committee of the Pri Council, which shall cease to exercise the juris tion it has hitherto exercised, shall be followed all such cases.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASON

The Federal Court (Enlargement of Jurisdicti Act, 1947, is limited in its scope and is not inte ed to empower the Federal Court with the Ju diction of the court of criminal appeals in Engla The question whether there should be a right appeal in criminal cases finally decided by High Courts of India raises a large question wh the Federal Court as now constituted is not entit to cover. The question whether there should be appeal against the sentences of death passed by High Court is one which the Dominion Parlia will have to consider separately.

The Bill proposed above removes the lacuna the Federal Court (Enlargement of Jurisdicti Act, 1947. It does not deal with the criminal ca from India to the Privy Council. This subject to be considered as the present Bill is a gene enactment intended to make the Federal Co self-sufficient to the extent the Judicial Commit of the Privy Council has been and in regard criminal appeals which their Lordships have mitted from official judgments and orders of High Courts of India.

for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal

Calcutta, the 13th January 1948.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 12th January 1948.

...inary Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of West Bengal for 1947-48.

...racter of the season.—In most of the districts ...ll was insufficient for preparatory tillage and ...quently the acreage sown was less than the ...ear. The weather conditions were unfavour... and drought affected the growth of the crop ...ost all districts. But weather and its effect ...e cultivation and growth of the crop have favourable in the districts of 24-Parganas and ...eling.

...age.—The total area sown with different ...i crops this year is estimated at 1,735,500 acres this year as against 1,981,900 acres of last year. The estimates of acreage and yield under Bhadoi crops in West Dinajpur could not be sent by District Officer there as the relevant papers were not available to him in consequence of the partition of the district. Hence the above figures exclude the acreage sown in West Dinajpur except for autumn rice the figures whereof have been estimated by this Directorate.

Of this, the area under autumn rice is estimated at 1,415,100 acres this year as against 1,636,900 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn of autumn rice is estimated at 75 per cent. of the normal this year as against 85 per cent. of the normal last year.

for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

RECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 15th May 1947.

Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal for 1946-47.

ote.—On an average of the five years ending 1944-45, the area under wheat has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to the total wheat acreage (a) in British India and (b) in Bengal has in the five years ending 1944-45 averaged (a) 47·5 per cent. and (b) 7 per cent., respectively.]

haracter of the season.—Since the submission the Third Forecast, the weather conditions have much improved. There has been some damage to the crop due to drought, insect-pests, and fungus diseases.

Acreage.—The total area sown with the crop is estimated at 192,800 acres this year, as against 201,700 acres of last year. The decrease is mainly due to unfavourable weather conditions prevailing at the time of sowing.

Outturn.—The average outturn of the crop for the province is estimated at 72 per cent. of the normal this year, as against 63 per cent. of the normal last year.

Total yield.—Taking 9 maunds as the normal yield per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province works out to 45,900 tons this year, as against 42,000 tons last year.

[illegible]ECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 5th February 1948.

[illegible] Forecast of Winter Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1947-48.

[illegible] the past the data required for the publication [illegible]rop forecasts were furnished to this Directorate [illegible] the District Officers. These data were compiled [illegible] consolidated and, where necessary, suitably [illegible]ified before publication. It is well known that [illegible] system has not been entirely satisfactory in [illegible] we have not always got dependable results. [illegible] foregoing agency for the collection of crop [illegible]istics had been adopted as there were no other [illegible]able agencies available for the purpose. Since [illegible], however, the Indian Statistical Institute has [illegible] carrying out random sample surveys to deter[illegible] the areas and production of three important [illegible]s. The work started on an experimental basis, [illegible] the method, it is learnt, has been sufficiently [illegible]loped to give reliable results on which the [illegible]casts can be based. Accordingly the estimates [illegible]reas and outturns shown below are taken from [illegible] results of the random sample survey of winter [illegible] crop conducted by the Indian Statistical [illegible]itute. The dislocation of work as a result of [illegible] partition of the province and also this change [illegible]ur method caused some delay as a result of [illegible]ch the First Forecast of Winter Rice Crop [illegible]d not be published.

[illegible]ason.—The rains set in rather late and the [illegible]fall in the sowing period was less than normal with the result that sowing and, consequently, transplantations were delayed in most of the districts. This accounts for the area under winter rice being somewhat less than in last year. Otherwise the weather conditions were on the whole favourable and the conditions of the crop satisfactory in the districts of 24-Parganas, Burdwan, Hooghly, Howrah, Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling. The effects of weather on the growth of crop were just the opposite in the districts of Nabadwip, Murshidabad and West Dinajpur as the low yields there indicate. Some damage is reported to have been caused by excessive rains in some parts of 24-Parganas and by flood in Murshidabad and Birbhum.

Area and yield.—8,031,200 acres are estimated to be under winter rice this year compared to 8,301,000 acres in 1946-47. In the district of Darjeeling, only Siliguri subdivision is included in sample surveys. As such, an area of 12,700 acres, estimated by this Directorate to be under this crop in parts of Darjeeling other than Siliguri, is to be added to both these estimates.

The yield of the province as a whole is estimated at 81 per cent. of the normal (12·4 maunds clean rice per acre) as against 83 per cent. in 1946-47. Calculated on this basis the total outturn of the province this year works out to 2,956,300 tons as against 3,131,100 tons in last year. To these estimates should be added 4,700 tons, the estimated outturn of the parts of Darjeeling other than Siliguri subdivision.

[DI]RECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 1st April 1948.

[Fin]al Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of West Bengal for 1947-48.

The season.—The weather conditions, as [re]ported in Preliminary Forecast, were adverse in [th]e early stages of the crops. That accounts for [th]e diminution of acreages and to a large extent [fo]r the lower yields of the crops than normal as [th]e figures herein indicate. In the later period [s]o the weather conditions did not appreciably [im]prove but, on the contrary, continued to remain [un]favourable in some districts.

Area and yield.—The total area under different bhadoi crops is estimated to be 1,745,100 acres this year as against 1,960,500 acres, the revised estimate for the last year. Of this area, 1,420,200 acres are estimated to be under Autumn rice this year compared to 1,612,800 acres last year.

The outturn of Autumn rice is estimated at 79 per cent. of the normal yield, as against 85 per cent. of the normal yield last year. Calculated on the basis of the normal yield equal to 10·9 maunds of clean rice per acre, the gross total yield of Autumn rice for the province works out to 483,361 tons this year compared to 548,912 tons last year.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE WEST BENGAL

Final Forecast of Winter Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1947-48.

Calcutta, the 19th April 1948.

[Note.—As in the Second Forecast of Winter Rice, 1947-48, the estimates of areas and outturns of winter rice in this Final Forecast have also been taken from the results of the random sample survey conducted by the Indian Statistical Institute. The figures shown below are the revised estimates based on the analysis of complete materials of the survey.]

Season.—In the pre-harvest period the weather conditions remained on the whole favourable. The month of November was rather dry while rainfall in December was above normal in most all the districts. In late December inclement weather prevailed and intermittent rains, unusual at that time of the year, fell for a few days at the time of harvests. The loss of harvests was, however, not appreciable.

Area and yield.—8,025,800 acres are estimated to be under winter rice this year compared to 8,301,000 acres in 1946-47. In the district of Darjeeling, only Siliguri subdivision is included in sample surveys. As such, an area of 12,700 acres estimated by this Directorate to be under this crop in parts of Darjeeling other than Siliguri is to be added to both these estimates.

The yield per acre of the province as a whole is same as in 1946-47, being estimated at 83 per cent. of the normal (12·4 maunds of clear rice per acre). Calculated on this basis the total outturn of the province this year works out to 3,034,300 tons this year as against 3,138,100 tons last year. To these estimates should be added 1,700 tons the estimated outturn of the parts of Darjeeling other than Siliguri subdivision.

D. BASU,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL

Calcutta, the 16th April 1948.

Forecast of Winter Til (Sesamum) Crop of West Bengal for 1947-48.

Description.—There are two varieties of the crops, viz., "Summer Til" and "Winter Til". The former is generally sown in February and March and is harvested in May and June. The latter variety is generally sown in August to October and is harvested in November to January.

The season.—The weather and its effect on the cultivation and growth of the crop have not been favourable except in the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly.

Area and yield. The total area sown with this crop is estimated at 11,400 acres this year as against 11,700 acres of last year. The outturn per acre for the province is estimated at 68 per cent. of the normal this year as against 86 per cent. of the normal last year. Taking 7 maunds as the normal yield of crop per acre the gross yield of the crop for the province works out to 1,992 tons this year, as against 2,590 tons last year.

...cond Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of West Bengal for 1947-48.

...ason.—Since the submission of the First Fore-...t, the weather and its effects on the growth of ...crop have been, on the whole, favourable. ...ht damage to the crops has, however, been ...rted from the districts of Birbhum, Burdwan ... Maldah owing to drought while untimely ...wers at the time of harvests in the district of Hooghly slightly affected the crops that were still in the field.

Area and yield.—The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum, for which separate forecasts are published) is estimated at 209,300 acres this year, as against 222,800 acres last year.

The average outturn of different oilseed crops for the Province is estimated at 75 per cent. of the normal this year as against 76 per cent. of the normal last year.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF WEST BENGAL FOR 1948.

The Preliminary Forecast deals with the area and the condition of the crop in the early part of the jute-growing season. The estimate of out turn is shown in the Final Forecast. With the coming into force of the Bengal Jute Regulations (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948, every cultivator has been permitted to grow jute without having to take any license in any waste lands or any lands in which no crops have been grown during the jute season in any of the previous three years. The areas shown in columns (5) and (6) give the total area on which jute has been actually found to have been grown this year (i) out of licensed area and (ii) on extra area as permitted under section 17A, Bengal Jute Regulations (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948, referred to above.

Area in 1948.—In West Bengal (excluding the States of Cooch Behar and Tripura) the total licensed area comes to 309,330 acres, of which 255,685 acres have been found to be under jute this year. An extra area of 49,850 acres is estimated to have been sown with jute this year under section 17A of Bengal Jute Regulations (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1948. The total area under jute is thus estimated at 305,535 acres as against 228,985 acres of the Final Forecast last year.

The season.—This year there was timely rainfall for preparatory tillage and sowing in almost all the districts. The weather was on the whole favourable at the time of sowing. In the district of Jalpaiguri, however, heavy and continuous rains fell in the early part of the season destroying the crop considerably and, at places, made the sowing of jute impossible. Drought prevailed in Malda, adversely affecting the crop thereby and, to some extent, in Howrah also. Slight damage to the crop as a result of heavy rains has been reported from West Dinajpur. Early-sown Olitorious variety has suffered slightly in the district of the 24-Parganas and Ranaghat subdivision of Nadia. The present condition of the crop is fair except in the district of Jalpaiguri.

Stock.—The stock in hand of the cultivators is reported to be small.

Director of Agriculture, West Bengal

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BIHAR, 19

[NOTE.—On an average of five years ending 1944-45, the area under jute in Bihar to w this Forecast relates has represented some 7·0 per cent. of the total area under jute in Ind

The present Forecast deals only with the estimated area sown. It gives also a general survey of prospects but makes no reference to the probable outturn either in percentage figures or in bales.

2. Acreage.—I estimate the area sown during the current and preceding years in round numbers as follows:—

Year.				Acres
1944	...	...	...	... 162,900
1945	...	...	...	. 158,900
1946	...	...	...	... 144,900
1947	...	...	...	... 143,500
1948	...	...	...	... 163,800

3. Weather conditions.—In March light rain fell in parts of all the jute-growing districts of the Province except Muzaffarpur and Saharsa where there was no rain. The fall was below the normal everywhere. In April rain fell in parts of all the jute-growing districts of the Province. The fall was below the normal everywhere except Darbhanga and Purnea where it was slightly above the normal. In May, rain fell in all the jute-growing districts of the Province; the fall was below the normal everywhere except in Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga.

4. District return.—Last year's area under jute was finally estimated at 143,500 acres. The total area under jute this year is estimated by the District Officer at 163,800 acres. The increase in area is mainly due to high prices of jute and propaganda by the department to increase the area under jute crop.

5. Conditions and prospects.—The present condition of the crop is good so far.

6. General.—The quantity of jute, which remains in the Province from the crop of 1947, is reported to be little in the district of the Santal Parganas and the important jute-growing district of Purnea.

The weather was favourable for the crop. The increase in area for the current year in comparison with that of the last year is due to heavy export last year which has prompted cultivators to grow more this year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF ASSAM, 1948

[NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1944-45 the area under jute in Assam represents some 8·8 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.]

1. Season.—The weather at the sowing time was generally favourable for early sowings except in the district of Cachar. But the excessive rainfall during May and June interfered with late sowings and inter-culture hampering the growth of the crop and damaging the crop in low-lying areas in most of the districts. The present condition of the crop is reported to be retarded.

2. Area sown.—The total area under jute, as estimated by the Deputy Commissioners, is 210,300 acres against last year's final forecast area of 202,600 acres. The increase in area occurred in the districts of Nowgong and Garo Hills only and it is mainly due to rise in price of jute.

3. Stock.—According to the reports of the Deputy Commissioners little jute remained in stock from last year's crop in the districts.

Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, the 8th September 1948.

Forecast of the Summer Til (Sesamum) Crop of West Bengal for 1948-49.

Character of the season.—The weather and its effect on the growth and cultivation of the crop have generally been favourable. Low outturn in Birbhum is due to drought.

Area and yield.—The area sown with the crop is estimated at 15,000 acres this year compared to 10,500 acres, the revised estimate of the last year. The increase in area is due to favourable weather conditions.

Outturn.—The outturn per acre for the province as a whole is estimated at 78·67 per cent. of the normal this year as against 74·87 per cent. of the normal last year. Taking the normal yield at 7 maunds per acre, the gross outturn of the crop for the province is estimated at 3,035 tons this year as against 2,020 tons last year.

[D]IRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL

[FI]NAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF WEST BENGAL, 1948.

[S]eason.—Since the issue of the Preliminary Forecast, the weather condi[tion]s have been on the whole favourable. As reported then, the crop of the [dist]ricts of Jalpaiguri and Malda has been adversely affected by heavy [rain]falls in the former and continuous drought in the latter, so much so that [desp]ite general increase in acreage and outturn, there has been considerable [dec]rease in these two districts. The season has been particularly favour[able] in the districts of 24-Parganas, Nadia and Howrah and the crop there [has s]hown luxuriant growth, though reports of early flowering of the plants [hav]e from certain places in 24-Parganas.

[A]rea.—The area under jute is 248,500 acres in the licensed area less the [land]s for which licences were issued but which were not sown as disclosed [by] an examination of the jute lands under section 14 of the Jute Regula[tion] Act, and 66,420 acres were sown with jute in waste lands and other [lan]ds on which no crop was grown during the jute season in any of the [prev]ious 3 years as permitted under section 17A, Bengal Jute Regulations [(W]est Bengal Amendment) Act. Thus the total area under jute this year [is e]stimated to be 314,920 acres as against 229,175 acres (revised) last year.

[O]utturn.—As in the previous years the percentage figures are calculated [on] the basis of the Divisional normals which remain as follows:—

	Bales per acre.
Old Rajshahi Division (at present included in the Presidency Division) ...	3·5
Presidency and Burdwan Divisions ...	3·2

The total yield of the crop is estimated at 859,335 bales of 400 lbs. each [thi]s year as against 549,470 bales last year.

Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 18th November 1948.

First Forecast of Winter Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1948-49.

(Note.—The figures in last year's forecasts of winter rice crop shown in columns 3, 6 and 7 of Appendix I were taken from the results of the random sample survey conducted by the Indian Statistical Institute. The Institute is also conducting the survey this year but as the estimate would not be available from them before December 1948, the figures for this first forecast of winter rice of 1948 shown below, are based on the reports received from the staff of the Directorate of Agriculture.)

Season.—The sowing of winter rice took place at the normal time but owing to inadequate and irregular rainfall in June and early July, transplantation was delayed in almost all the districts. Subsequent rainfalls, however, proved beneficial to the crop and it is expected that the average outturn per acre will not be much affected by the drought at the time of transplantation. The crop in Malda and West Dinajpur districts has been badly affected by drought in the early phase followed by flood. Slight damage to the crop in Murshidabad is also reported to have been caused by the overflow of the Mor river.

Area and yield.—7,871,600 acres are estimated to be under winter rice this year compared to 8,038,500 acres in 1947-48. The yield per acre of the province as a whole is estimated at 10·25 maunds per acre that is, 82·67 per cent. of the normal yield, almost the same as in 1947-48.

Of this area 1,421,300 acres are estimated to be under autumn rice compared to 1,465,300 acres (revised) in 1947-48.
